STATE TIGHTENS NET ABOUT BEN RUDNER

Today

Mr. Babst Sees Man Power. Like Caesar and T. R. He Worshipped the Bull. Ford and His Millions.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

[The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.]

EARL D. BABST told a gathering of friends a few days ago his observations on a trip around the world, devoted to studying sugar production in Java, the Philippines and Hawaii, two things impressed Mr. Babst.

From Genoa to California he traveled 20,000 miles by land and sea, and not one of the countries he visited, from Egypt onward, had actual self-government except Japan. All the others take orders from statesmen and businessmen in Europe.

Most impressive also was "the man power of the east," in Java, on territory equal to New York state, he saw 40,000,000 human beings supporting themselves by agriculture, harvesting crops with sharp knives, carrying them on their heads at a trot, tearing up their cane fields by the roots every year, and replanting them. A country of 40,000,000 people without a weed growing.

How long will a handful of intelligent men on the foggy British islands dictate to 300,000,000 human beings in India, 400,000,000 in China, other millions in Africa and elsewhere?

The answer is that the few that can think will dictate to the hundreds of millions until they learn to think, or until some leader comes to do their thinking for them.

MUSSOLINI is like Caesar—he dreams of vast empires and works practically to make them real. He is like Theodore Roosevelt and does not like to be left out of any fight.

He tells Britain that he sympathizes with the British attitude on China and is sending an Italian battleship to represent him there, and may send an expeditionary force.

A courageous Italian, Marco Polo, was first to explore and give a real account of that mysterious far east, and Italy does not mean to be left out of any Chinese settlement.

IN EGYPT, archaelogists discovered a huge sarcophagus, 11 feet long, 8 feet wide, 10 feet deep. There were no giants in those Egypthian days, so the big coffin undoubtedly contains the mummy of some sacred bull.

The sacred bull was worshiped, carefully fed, the Egytian people went into mourning when he died, and rejoiced when the priests announced the birth of a genuine sacred bull calf to take the dead bull's place.

When a Persian conqueror heard of Egypt's bull-god Apis, he ordered the animal slaughtered and ate part to show that he was greater than the God.

Alexander, the Great, much wiser worshiped the bull's god politely, said it was one of the finest gods he ever saw, and passed on.

MASSILLON MERCHANTS CALLED IN TRIAL OF ALLEGED "PAY-OFF" MAN

LINK DEFENDANT WITH McDERMOTT

One Witness Swears That he Was Introduced to "Trigger Man" in Ben's Hardware Store.

CANTON, O., Feb. 14.—The state attempted today to draw more closely its net of evidence against Ben Rudner, charged with having been the "pay-off" man in the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton's vice crusading editor, who was murdered last July.

Hinted "Big Doings."

Through the testimony of two Massillon business men, both known to Rudner, they brought out evidence tending to link Rudner with Pat McDermott, the "trigger man," now serving a life sentence in the Ohio penitentiary for the crime.

William Brunne under direct examination testified that a week before the murder he was introduced to Pat McDermott by Rudner in Rudner's hardware store.

"'Bill'" Brunne testified, Rudner said to him, "'I want you to meet Mr. McDermott, another unfortunate fellow who served time with me in Atlanta.'"

Rudner had testified in the McDermott trial that he had never known McDermott.

Stanley Baltzic, a Massillon druggist, testified that a short time before the Mellett murder, Rudner told him: "There'll be big doings in Canton pretty soon."

State Witness Recalled.

Brunne's testimony came as a complete surprise. He was a witness in the McDermott trial, but at that time made no reference to the introduction in the Rudner store.

Brunne, under cross-examination by E. L. Mills and George Gordon Battle, defense lawyers, admitted that he had twice been convicted on charges of assault. The attorneys, however, were unable to get him to alter his main story as told on direct examination.

Merton A. Robinson, a fire arms expart, testified that the bullet which killed Mellett was fired from a .38 calibre Smith & Wesson pistol. A second bullet picked up in the yard was fired from a different make of pistol, he added.

Frank Schlagel, a druggist near the late Mellett home, testified that he saw McDermott and Steve Kascholk together near the Mellett home about a week before the murder.

Explosive Expert Blows Himself to Pieces in Blast

PEABODY, Mass., Feb. 14.—Blowing himself up with a charge of dynamite, that shook the earth for miles around and shattered scores of windows, William H. Vanderbilt, 60, an explosive expert committed suicide here today.

The suicide theory was declared a certainty by police when they learned that Vanderbilt was to have appeared in a Salem court today, defendant in a civil suit.

The terrific blast shook nearby homes and police and fire headquarters were deluged with calls from frightened persons.

OHIOANS STORE COAL IN FEAR OF MINE TIE-UP

ASK NEW SCALE

Miners and Operators Seemingly as Far Apart as Poles.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 14.—Industrial establishments in Ohio today were reported heavily stocking coal, in preparation for a possible coal miners' strike, should the negotiations between miners and operators of the central competitive field opening today at Miami, Fla., fail to result in a wage agreement.

It is believed that a coal price slump in this territory will follow a wage agreement, should the miners and operators agree, because of the heavy supplies accumulated by most industrial users, and in view of the slackening winter domestic demand which will come with the expiration of the Jacksonville wage agreement, March 31.

"Peddling" mines in the southern Ohio fields were reported today working full shifts to supply the demand from industrial users who are laying in supplies.

Spokesman is Named.

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 14.—Seemingly as far apart as the poles, the soft coal miners and operators came together today for their perennial fight over wages. The miners want increased wages; the operators want to slash the pay.

The conference was summoned to draw a new wage scale for the Jacksonville agreement which expires March 31. Unless an agreement, permanent or temporary, is reached, approximately 350,000 union bituminous miners will walk out of the pits at the expiration of the present contract.

None of the responsible union or operator officials really believe that there will be a strike this year. They believe that a compromise, though it can be effected only after the sharp-

Dense Fog Which Blankets England, is Blamed.

TWO SMASH-UPS

LONDON, Feb. 14.—Eight persons were killed and at least 15 were injured today when two passenger trains collided head on at Hull during the dense fog which has blanketed England for four days.

The collision occurred at 9 o'clock this morning. A local incoming passenger train smashed with terrific force into an out-going special train. Six coaches of the local train were telescoped.

Rescue parties were quickly formed and searched feverishly among the debris, recovering the bodies of the dead and rescuing the injured.

Death Toll May Reach 12.

Thirty persons were taken to the hospital from the scene of the wreck, and it was feared the number of dead might reach twelve. The telescoped cars carried scores of children on their way to school.

Another wreck, in which seven persons were injured, occurred at London Bridge station, when an incoming train running blind in the fog ran into the stop bumpers.

This was the fourth consecutive day England has been fog-bound. While the fog today was lighter over many districts than it has been during the week-end, it still was heavy over the English channel, London and southern England.

Pittsburgh Bank Official Speaks at Club Meeting Here

A. D. Sallee, credit manager with the Farmers Deposit National Bank, Pittsburgh, addressed members of the Sunday afternoon club in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A. at 3:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon. His subject was "A Light Heavyweight."

He discussed the development of the boxing profession in recent years and also graphically told of the title bouts which had taken place recently in the sport arena. He asserted that boxing today is not so dangerous as it used to be and that gate receipts for such attractions had increased from thousands to millions of dollars.

"You can't be a champion and be happy" he asserted. "Abe Lincoln said: 'The Lord must love the common people because he made so many of them.' So we find that the common people are the backbone of the nation. Let us not be heavyweights in one endeavor but let us be light heavyweights in all pursuits in life."

POLICE CHIEF SUSPENDED FOR FIVE DAYS IN LISBON RULING

Wellsville Battle Has Unexpected Termination Before Jurist.

Appeal case of John H. Fultz, Wellsville's ousted chief of police, was brought to a sudden and unexpected termination in common pleas court, Lisbon, today, when Judge Thomas D. Price, of New Lexington, restored the officer to full power, after hearing only the opening arguments of the opposing counsel.

Means End of Fight.

Fultz was given a five-day suspension, without pay, by Judge Price, this, in the opinion of the jurist, being sufficient punishmeat for charges of disobedience, disrespect and unbecoming conduct brought by Mayor W. L. Fogo.

Fultz announced, following the decision, that he would report for duty tonight.

When questioned in Lisbon, Mayor Fogo said that he would not carry the fight to the appellate court.

The case consumed practically 30 minutes of the court's time.

Upholds Reprimand.

Attorneys Ben L. Bennett and Frank E. Grosshans, of East Liverpool, and W. A. O'Grady represented Fultz, while Solicitor S. C. Luccock and Attorney S. W. Crawford, the latter of East Liverpool, were in court for the prosecution.

Judge Price announced that common pleas court and the court of appeals had covered the first Fultz removal fight at great length and that unless there was something unusual in this case, that the findings of the other courts would be adhered to largely.

After the arguments had been finished, Judge Price handed down his decision with dispatch.

He upheld the reprimand given Fultz by Fogo, but asserted that the punishment meted out in the case was too great.

Punishment Too Great, Court Says.

"The man that doesn't make mistakes is pretty flat," the court said. "The man who is chief of police has got to have some backbone and force behind him. I wouldn't want a sissy on any job as chief of police and I don't believe this man is a sissy."

"I think the mayor spoke too hastily and too soon, and that the punishment is too great."

"I am upholding the mayor in his reprimand."

The attorneys then conferred with Judge Price and it was agreed that the order be modified to a suspension of five days without pay and that Fultz be restored to full power as police chief.

With the completion of the "cut-off" between Bayard and Canton that part of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh division between Rochester and Canton is soon to become the busiest link in the Pennsylvania system connecting Chicago and New York, railroad officials said today.

Thousands of tons of freight is now being moved through East Liverpool daily. One day recently 37 trains are said to have passed here within one hour. On another day 56 trains were counted within three hours. Railroad officials estimate that between 100 and 200 freight trains go through this city every day.

Because of the low grades on the C. & P. division, the Pennsylvania company has practically abandoned the Fort Wayne division through East Palestine, Salem and Alliance as a freight road but it will continue as a passenger line. The building of the "cut-off" between Bayard and Canton last year was one step in making the road through East Liverpool the main freight artery in the system.

Many of the through freight trains which pass here carry fruit, fresh meats, produce and perishable goods, which must be rushed with all possible haste. Solid trains of refrigerator cars and live stock pass through here hourly.

Another indication that the C. & P. division is to become a freight line is the fact that the present two-track system is being rebuilt from Rochester to Bayard. The old rails are being replaced with a new 130-pound rail, said to be the heaviest produced. The westbound track from Rochester to Wellsville has already been rebuilt and material for the reconstruction of the eastbound track is now on the ground. Work on the latter track will be started immediately.

Rumors that the Pennsylvania company will make the line through here a four-track system persist although unverified. Considerable additional ground along the right of way would be necessary before such an improvement program could be started and several years would be required for its completition.

The Pennsylvania company, a few years ago, spent more than a million dollars in rebuilding a section of the line west of Salineville. This cut off the town of Millport, but at the same time eliminated a troublesome grade. The only other bad grade on the line is that which begins at Parks tank, east of Salineville, and extends as far as Summitville. Freight locomotives, know as "pushers" are kept at Salineville to assist trains up the three mile climb west of the town. The grade through East Liverpool is not a serious one for the heavy type locomotives which the Pennsy company is now using for through freight trains.

The completion of the Y at Yellow Creek connecting the main and the river road branches is also a factor in increasing the freight traffic over the division. Heretofore freight for Steubenville or Wheeling was taken into the Wellsville yards where it was attached to a down river freight train. By the present arrangement these trains are routed over the new section of track directly to the river road at Yellow Creek, eliminating the delay which usually occurred in the Wellsville yards.

30-MINUTE FIGHT

Wellsville Battle Has Unexpected Termination Before Jurist.

Appeal case of John H. Fultz, Wellsville's ousted chief of police, was brought to a sudden and unexpected termination in common pleas court, Lisbon, today, when Judge Thomas D. Price, of New Lexington, restored the officer to full power, after hearing only the opening arguments of the opposing counsel.

Means End of Fight.

Fultz was given a five-day suspension, without pay, by Judge Price, this, in the opinion of the jurist, being sufficient punishment for charges of disobedience, disrespect and unbecoming conduct brought by Mayor W. L. Fogo.

Fultz announced, following the decision, that he would report for duty tonight.

When questioned in Lisbon, Mayor Fogo said that he would not carry the fight to the appellate court.

The case consumed practically 30 minutes of the court's time.

Upholds Reprimand.

Attorneys Ben L. Bennett and Frank E. Grosshans, of East Liverpool, and W. A. O'Grady represented Fultz, while Solicitor S. C. Luccock and Attorney S. W. Crawford, the latter of East Liverpool, were in court for the prosecution.

Judge Price announced that common pleas court and the court of appeals had covered the first Fultz removal fight at great length and that unless there was something unusual in this case, that the findings of the other courts would be adhered to largely.

After the arguments had been finished Judge Price handed down his decision with dispatch.

He upheld the reprimand given Fultz by Fogo, but asserted that the punishment meted out in the case was too great.

Punishment Too Great, Court Says.

"The man that doesn't make mistakes is pretty flat," the court said "The man who is chief of police has got to have some backbone and force behind him. I wouldn't want a sissy on any job as chief of police and I don't believe this man is a sissy."

"I think the mayor spoke too hastily and too soon, and that the punishment is too great."

"I am unholding the mayor in his reprimand."

The attorneys then conferred with Judge Price and it was agreed that the order be modified to a suspension of five days without pay and that Fultz be restored to full power as police chief.

With the completion of the "cut-off" between Bayard and Canton that part of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh division between Rochester and Canton is soon to become the busiest link in the Pennsylvania system connecting Chicago and New York, railroad officials said today.

Thousands of tons of freight is now being moved through East Liverpool daily. One day recently 37 trains are said to have passed here within one hour. On another day 56 trains were counted within three hours. Railroad officials estimate that between 100 and 200 freight trains go through this city every day.

Because of the low grades on the C. & P. division, the Pennsylvania company has practically abandoned the Fort Wayne division through East Palestine, Salem and Alliance as a freight road but it will continue as a passenger line. The building of the "cut-off" between Bayard and Canton last year was one step in making the road through East Liverpool the main freight artery in the system.

Many of the through freight trains which pass here carry fruit, fresh meats, produce and perishable goods, which must be rushed with all possible haste. Solid trains of refrigerator cars and live stock pass through here hourly.

Another indication that the C. & P. division is to become a freight line is the fact that the present two-track system is being rebuilt from Rochester to Bayard. The old rails are being replaced with a new 130-pound rail, said to be the heaviest produced. The westbound track from Rochester to Wellsville has already been rebuilt and material for the reconstruction of the eastbound track is now on the ground. Work on the latter track will be started immediately.

Rumors that the Pennsylvania company will make the line through here a four-track system persist although unverified. Considerable additional ground along the right of way would be necessary before such an improvement program could be started and several years would be required for its completition.

The Pennsylvania company, a few years ago, spent more than a million dollars in rebuilding a section of the line west of Salineville. This cut off the town of Millport, but at the same time eliminated a troublesome grade. The only other bad grade on the line is that which begins at Parks tank, east of Salineville, and extends as far as Summitville. Freight locomotives, know as "pushers" are kept at Salineville to assist trains up the three mile climb west of the town. The grade through East Liverpool is not a serious one for the heavy type locomotives which the Pennsy company is now using for through freight trains.

The completion of the Y at Yellow Creek connecting the main and the river road branches is also a factor in increasing the freight traffic over the division. Heretofore freight for Steubenville or Wheeling was taken into the Wellsville yards where it was attached to a down river freight train. By the present arrangement these trains are routed over the new section of track directly to the river road at Yellow Creek, eliminating the delay which usually occurred in the Wellsville yards.

WELLSVILLE MAN DENIES CONSPIRACY CHARGE

HUGH WELLS AND OTHERS TO FACE U. S. COURT

ARREST SHOCK

Accused, in Statement, Says Case Basis is Revenge.

Hugh L. Wells, Cleveland Credit Men's association official, former Wellsville resident, who, as one-time trustee of the bankrupt estate of Elmer L. Volkmor, has ben arrested in Cleveland on a federal warrant charging conspiracy to defraud Volkmor's creditors, declared today that the charge brought against him was unfounded and that the matter can be explained to show he was guilty of no criminality.

The government's investigation which led to the warrants was started by Elmer Volkmor, once the owner of a chain of seven shoe stores and recently sentenced to federal prison for three years on a charge of issuing false financial statements. Volkmor declared his estate had included the five shares of Cleveland Housing Co. stock, but that he had lost the certificate of ownership and had concluded, moreover, that the stock was worthless, so did not list it.

Wells, who had been named trustee of the estate, sold this stock for $50 to Knott and the third man, Volkmor claimed, and the two buyers later sold the same stock for $311.50. The Cleveland Housing Co., a concern fathered by the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce to promote the building of homes, was in liquidation at the time Wells sold the stock, Volkmor told government officials, and could have been sold by him to the liquidators at the full price of $62.30 a share.

Wells admitted he had sold the stock but declared that the missing certificates had presented an obstacle to its sale at the price offered by the liquidators. In order to sell it to the liquidators, he claimed, it would have been necessary for the estate to post a $300 bond as protection against the reappearance of the lost certificates. This, he pointed out would have left only a net $11.50 and, by selling it at $50, he figured he was making a better deal.

Government officials yesterday during their investigation of the matter were concerning themselves about the resale of the stock by Knott and the other man. There was nothing to show, they said, that these two individuals had been compelled to post bond in order to resell the stock.

The government officials claimed in addition, that at some time during the negotiations for the sale of the stock to the two men, affidavit was made by Volkmor to the effect that the stock certificate had been lost. This, they said, would tend to guard against any complications, should the certificate bob up again.

The arrest of Wells and Knott was made Saturday in the federal building when the two appeared in answer to a call from District Attorney Bernstein, summoning them in for a conference.

Bernsteen, who heads the investigation, said yesterday that the warrants issued in the case are based on the one alleged transaction.

"If other facts should be presented to me I would investigate," he said, "but as matters now stand I regard this as one, isolated case."

Cleve H. Pomeroy, president of the Cleveland Association of Credit Men, came to the defense of Wells in a public statement. He says, in part: .

"The Adjustment Bureau Co. has retained as manager of the bureau Mr. Hugh Wells for the past six years and Mr. Wells during that time has liquidated on behalf of creditors, hundreds of bankrupt estates and handled millions of dollars of assets in that connection and during that time there has never been the slightest reflection on his integrity."

Thousands of men and women lack appetite and are "finicky" about what they eat and so find their energy and vigor slipping away. Thousands of other men and women eat heartily, even to the point of "stuffing" yet they remain thin and can't seem to get any "pep."

Such conditions are due to faulty nutritive processes. Lack of stimulation to the mouth and stomach glands is the real cause. We all need better digestion of our food. Scientists are telling us about this as announced nearly every day in the newspapers and medical journals.

If your appetite is poor or if you eat a lot and you still remain thin and lacking in vitality, try this—a good stimulant three times a day with your meals. You will be satisfied with the improvement and results will come quickly.

A remarkable stimulant-tonic has been devised for just such conditions as these. It is delightfully palatable and is prepared by an old Virginia concern in business for nearly a century. Druggists and physicians have come to know this stimulant as "Old Monticello Tonic." Get a bottle today from your druggist, take a small wineglass full before your next meal—see how much better you eat—feel the glow of stimulated functions throughout the body. A few days' treatment will bring a quick change in rundown conditions and overcome lack of energy.

THE NEW SILKS FOR SPRING ARE ARRIVING

Winter, with its cheerless skies will soon be over—and shortly Nature will color the world—to give us bright thoughts through the Spring. This we look forward to with joy in our hearts and we yearn to give outward expression to the pleasure of it all.

One of the ways a woman has of expressing the Spring in her heart is by choosing a new frock.

Our silk section is replete with lovely lengths of silk from which to choose a frock. The colorings and weaves are more exquisite than ever before.

A continuous interest is strongly maintained for all prints large or small. Vivid or subdued. Crepes in dainty floral designs have been successfully introduced this season and as last year, everywhere you go you will see prints, prints, prints.

You will find the smartest fabrics in print—including crepe, radium, Pussy Willow and Georgette.

Printed Crepes—$2.00 to $3.75 the yard.

Printed Radium—$1.75 to $3.50 the yard.

Printed Georgette—$2.25 to $3.50 the yard.

A wonderful group of printed Pussy Willows, including floral, National Park and Bottom of the Ocean designs. Priced at $4.50 the yard. All distinctly new designs.

To combine with the above prints we have a splendid range of colors in plain washable crepe at $2.00 to $3.00 the yard; plain flat crepes — $3.50 the yard; plain Pussy Willow taffeta at $3.25 the yard.

If one wishes a compose' frock, which is the newest innovation, one will find a beautiful array of shades in greens, blues, rose, tans and brown. Washable crepe at $2.25 the yard, makes an inexpensive, yet chic-looking frock, in the new way of combining colors.

The tailleur will be a favorite in the Spring mode and has not been overlooked in our selection of suitable fabrics.

Mallinson's Charmova is a stylish fabric for the tailleur. Choose black, navy, blue, Mother Goose or Bois de Rose. $5.50 the yard. 39 inches wide.

For the dress coat we have a beautiful grade of Bengaline, corded silk, at $3.50 the yard. Black or Cocotan, the two most fashionable coat shades for Spring. Also white for children's coats.

A lighter weight silk for tailored suit or top coat is the crepe Faille in black, navy and new Spring shades. $4.00 the yard. 39 inches wide.

For afternoon or evening wear—choose Georgette or Crepe Chiffon in a large assortment of pastel shades.

Crepe Chiffon at $1.65 the yard.

Taffeta in light and changeable shades for the Junior or small Miss, for party wear. $2.00 to $3.00 the yard.

Check and plaid taffetas—large and small, for informal frocks or trimming. $2.50 to $3.75 the yard.

REVIVAL MEETS COME TO CLOSE

Evangelist Edward C. Oney, of Ashland, Ky., closed a series of revival meetings last night in the Church of the Nazarene of which Rev. F. F. Freese is pastor.

He spoke at the morning, afternoon and evening services which drew large crowds despite the inclement weather. At the afternoon meeting he spoke of his work as a missionary in Japan, while at the services Saturday night he told the experience of his life.

Baptismal Services.

Rev. W. E. Dean, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, conducted baptismal services yesterday morning. He preached at both services.

Don't Risk "Flu" by Neglecting a Cold

If you have a cough or cold, don't neglect it while "flu" germs are in the air. A cough or cold irritates the lining of throat, chest and bronchial tubes, often the lungs themselves, if neglected too long. And it is in these inflamed linings—when a cold has broken down your resistance—that the dreaded "flu" germs are quickest to find a breeding ground.

Don't just dread the "flu." Take measures to prevent it, by getting rid of a threatening cough or cold immediately—before "flu" develops.

By its powerful double action, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral quickly breaks up coughs and colds. With the very first swallow you feel its comforting, healing warmth. Quickly and unfailingly it goes straight to the seat of danger, penetrating through and through the irritated membranes. The soothing, healing powers of this hospital-tested medicine are absorbed by the linings of throat, chest and bronchial tubes just as ink is absorbed by a blotter. This is why Ayer's Cherry Pectoral so quickly stops the cough, breaks up the cold and brings, sure, lasting relief.

If "flu" has developed call your doctor. If it has not developed, but you have a threatening cough or cold, take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral at once! Keep your throat, bronchial tubes and lungs healthy and strong. At all druggists, 60c, twice as much, $1.00. fs24c

EAST LIVERPOOL—AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

Death of Dr. George P. Ikirt

East Liverpool today mourns the death of Dr. George Pierce Ikirt, 74, school teacher, law student, physician and surgeon and statesman, who, as he often wished, succumbed "in the harness" Saturday at his home in West Sixth street.

Few men have had a more active career than Dr. Ikirt, who was the Democratic representative of the Eighteenth Ohio district in the United States congress for one term, and then declined renomination by his party.

Born near the West Beaver church in Columbiana county, he received his early education in the district and Lisbon schools. At 17 he was appointed a school teacher and at the same time he began the study of law under Jonathan H. Wallace, who later became congressman. Forced by ill health to abandon his plans to become a lawyer, he began the study of medicine, in which he graduated, and for 51 years he practiced his profession in the East Liverpool district.

In politics he was an ardent Democrat, but he never permitted party lines to influence his judgment on public issues. Possessed of the courage of his convictions, he opposed President Grover Cleveland, whom he twice helped to elect, on the silver question.

He was known as a "war horse" of his party, in which he was a recognized leader for many years. He numbered among his friends such men at the late Speaker Joseph G. Cannon, for many years known as the "czar" of the House of Representatives, and the late William Jennings Bryan, who always was a guest in the Ikirt home when he visited East Liverpool.

Besides his activity in his profession and his interest in politics, Dr. Ikirt was also a business man. And, too, he was known for his charities.

Dr. Ikirt's death is a great loss to East Liverpool, where he was revered.

Good Talk

There are few "good conversationalists" nowadays—for which Heaven be praised! Gifted talkers used to be always monopolizing the conversation when we wanted to talk. It takes long practice and much native ability to become a first-class talker, and then it may only get you disliked. But almost anyone, it appears, may become a pleasant and popular person in conversational gatherings, and that is really worth while.

"The first essential is to talk too little rather than too much. Second, avoid detail. A sketch may be crude, inaccurate and badly executed, but it is not boring. Cromwell's "wart-and-all" theory should never be applied in conversation, in which the quality of selection is of its very essence. Third, if you must tell a story—and please don't do so if you can help it—never imitate the mannerisms or intonations of the people you are describing.

"Fourth, look interested, and, if possible, be interested in what other people say. Do not let your eyes or your attention wander. A good listener is never a bore.

"We cannot all handle foils with skill, but we can all toss back the conversational ball when it is thrown at us, and it should be tossed back lightly—not hurled in the face of our opponent, who should be regarded as a partner in the social game rather than as an antagonist."

Too many people, afflicted with logical minds, seem to think that every conversation has to be an argument instead of a cooperative discussion, and that they are under moral obligations to prove something every time they open their mouths.

Alienated Affections

One of the unfortunate things about children going to college, or even to high school, is that sometimes it has a quite unforeseen effect, making a breach between them and their parents. The father and mother, after making big sacrifices for the boys' and girls' education, find the latter drawing away from them.

The children may not become really "ashamed of their parents." They will surely not feel that way if there is the right stuff in them. But they do come to feel, in many cases, a wide divergence of understanding and sympathy. Parents and children no longer have common interests. The children, in their growth, have grown away from their parents.

Sometimes this is the children's fault. In their rapid progress, they may become impatient of their plodding elders. That brings about much heart-burning, sometimes real tragedy. But there are two sides to it.

"The trouble with parents," says an indignant young college lad, "is their tendency to sniff at every suggestion or idea we spring on them. They don't keep pace with what is new, and don't try to understand what we're doing, and they brand what we learn as mere rubbish. So sometimes we simply have to pass them up in order to make any real progress."

A tolerant and understanding attitude toward the children, all the way from kindergarten to college graduation, is as important as the education itself. And whatever differerence there may be between parents and children in the matter of knowledge may be bridged by sympathetic interest in them and their work. Personal sympathy holds families together, in spite of varied interests.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY
By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Diary of a modern Pepys: Early up and had high words with a waiter over my breakfast and so foolishly upset I could not eat and so to 72nd street and out upon Riverside Drive. Then down Broadway atop an omnibus, still pouting.

And stopped to look at mail sorters in a postoffice sub station—a work which somehow fascinates me. Going to the Colony I was joined by Ray Long and Frazier Hunt, and we matched coins to see who would pay the score and with ill luck I lost, and how those gluttons did eat.

Home and worked until Gil Patten, who used to write Frank Merriwell novels, came and we played indifferently at billiards, but talked of this and that especially being in accord a gentleman was always a gentleman even when foxed. So home to bed.

A chorine returned from a tour to meet the girl friend with whom she formerly lived. In her absence the friend had become haughtily up-townish, with a drawling broad A, and a lorgnette. After listening for a long time, the returning trooper inquired: "How long have you been yachting?"

There is a type of Broadway girl one rarely finds outside that district. She has a brittle cynicism and a wise cracking manner of turning pleasant talk into stinging verbal thrusts. In this way she glosses over the hollow mockery of hard living. Her voice is a trifle husky from gin and cigarettes, her hair hennaed and her lips and cheeks over bright. Her particular boy friend is an Eddie or Joe who is usually reached by telephone at a pool room. Most of them under the aloof surface are generous hearted. In fact they have reached their present state largely through generosity of one kind and another. Under stimulation the veneer of hardness cracks and they are likely to sob over a mother song or tear-jerking poem. They are the girls who so mysteriously vanish from Broadway without leaving a single trace. They differ from the gold digger and usually waste their love on worthless men. And disappear.

The fashion decree that wrist watches are taboo with evening dress is not clicking. While the thin platinum chain stretched across the weskit is considered swank, the wrist watch is in majority.

Nor is anyone taking very seriously the effete effort to revive the derby. Idea comes from London where the bowler has always been more or less popular. It strikes me the ultimate in masculine bravery is to wear a pearl-white derby.

A dig among the debutantes. One met another leaving a beauty parlor. "What is the matter. Wouldn't they wait on you?" Mee-o-ow!

A big hearted Rupert told two Lorelei to make themselves entirely at home in his hotel apartment while he went to the theatre. Among the charges on his bill we: Hair dress parlor, $8; dinner, $14; manicure shop, $4; telephone calls to Hollywood and Chicago, $29; florist, $24; candy, $10; cigarettes, $3, and newstand, $17. A pleasant evening was had by all.

There are, I am told, some New York bell hops who are making $15,000 a year furnishing guests with liquor. It must be a dull business to carry pitchers of ice water on the side for a dime and try to act cheerful.

Unlike hen's eggs and society dramas, good jokes sometimes improve with age. Or at any rate they do not get old-fashioned with the rapidity that an egg does.

Here is one which at intervals I have been hearing for years. It seems to be to get better with each time of telling. I wonder if the reader will agree with me that its antiquity does not affect its excellence.

According to the most popular version, the thing is supposed to have happened in a remote court house of Missouri. A resident of the Ozark mountains whose reputation was none the best, had been on trial on the charge of horse stealing. The jury promptly returned a verdict of guilty without recommendation for mercy. Taking into consideration the past record of the offender, his Honor on the bench said:

"It is my intention to sentence you to at least eight years at hard labor in State's prison. Now then, before sentence is formally pronounced, I shall listen to anything you may have to say in your behalf."

He paused for a reply. After a moment of consideration the offender spoke:

"Well," he said, "I don't know ez I've got anything to say only this—it strikes me that you folks 'round this here cote house air purty tolerble dam liberal with other people's time."

HASKIN'S LETTER
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Outlawing War.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 13.—Senator William E. Borah and his proposal to outlaw war are receiving some hard knocks from some of the ablest knockers in the United States, including former Attorney General George W. Wickersham, Dr. A. Lawrence Lowell, president of Harvard University, Everett Colby, and Irving Fisher, professor of economics at Yale University. One of the verbal bludgeons with which he is being assailed is the charge by Professor Fisher that the Idaho statesman has emulated the late Senator Philander C. Knox in dragging red herrings across the trail leading to American entrance into the League of Nations and the World Court.

Dragging red herrings across trails is regarded as an especially reprehensible practice, it seems, but Senator Borah's friends insist that it can not be done where there isn't a trail and that it has yet to be proved that there is a trail leading to American entrance into the League of Nations.

Professor Fisher has been engaged in a debate with Dr. John Haynes Holmes, pastor of the Community Church of New York, on the question, "Is the League of Nations effective and can it be made so?" and he has been supporting the affirmative. There is something about the way the question is stated that arouses hoots and other derisive demonstrations from the Borahites, who say that the latter half of it is the negation of the first. That is to say, to debate whether the League of Nations can be made effective is to assume that it is not effective.

However that may be, the question as stated was duly debated in Symphony Hall, New York, and the only things lacking in the information about the affair that has been permitted to filter out to the general public are definite statements as to who won and whether the victory was by a knockout or a decision on points.

Merely a Pious Aspiration.

The head of Harvard University, in a letter read by Professor Fisher, said in effect that the best he could hand the Borah outlawry of war idea was to characterize it as merely a pious aspiration.

"Borah's proposal for the outlawry of war," wrote Dr. Lowell, "reminds me of James Russell Lowell's 'We are all agin wrong in the abstract, for that kind of wrong no one ever committed.' It does not seem to me to be a thing to oppose, because it is nothing but a pious aspiration, which is meaningless. In fact, it is a confusion of ideas. Outlawry means placing outside of the protection of the law. You outlaw a man, when anybody may kill him with impunity; but you can not outlaw an act or a crime. You can not outlaw murder—you outlaw the murderer, and then anyone may kill him who pleases; but it sounds well, and some people think it means something. It merely means calling war bad names. The World Court and the League of Nations are real means toward an end; whereas the outlawry of war is praising an end without creating any means for carrying it out. That is the way it lies in my mind."

EAST LIVERPOOL—AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

Death of Dr. George P. Ikirt

East Liverpool today mourns the death of Dr. George Pierce Ikirt, 74, school teacher, law student, physician and surgeon and statesman, who, as he often wished, succumbed "in the harness" Saturday at his home in West Sixth street.

Few men have had a more active career than Dr. Ikirt, who was the Democratic representative of the Eighteenth Ohio district in the United States congress for one term, and then declined renomination by his party.

Born near the West Beaver church in Columbiana county, he received his early education in the district and Lisbon schools. At 17 he was appointed a school teacher and at the same time he began the study of law under Jonathan H. Wallace, who later became congressman. Forced by ill health to abandon his plans to become a lawyer, he began the study of medicine, in which he graduated, and for 51 years he practiced his profession in the East Liverpool district.

In politics he was an ardent Democrat, but he never permitted party lines to influence his judgment on public issues. Possessed of the courage of his convictions, he opposed President Grover Cleveland, whom he twice helped to elect, on the silver question.

He was known as a "war horse" of his party, in which he was a recognized leader for many years. He numbered among his friends such men at the late Speaker Joseph G. Cannon, for many years known as the "czar" of the House of Representatives, and the late William Jennings Bryan, who always was a guest in the Ikirt home when he visited East Liverpool.

Besides his activity in his profession and his interest in politics, Dr. Ikirt was also a business man. And, too, he was known for his charities.

Dr. Ikirt's death is a great loss to East Liverpool, where he was revered.

Good Talk

There are few "good conversationalists" nowadays—for which Heaven be praised! Gifted talkers used to be always monopolizing the conversation when we wanted to talk. It takes long practice and much native ability to become a first-class talker, and then it may only get you disliked. But almost anyone, it appears, may become a pleasant and popular person in conversational gatherings, and that is really worth while.

"The first essential is to talk too little rather than too much. Second, avoid detail. A sketch may be crude, inaccurate and badly executed, but it is not boring. Cromwell's "wart-and-all" theory should never be applied in conversation, in which the quality of selection is of its very essence. Third, if you must tell a story—and please don't do so if you can help it—never imitate the mannerisms or intonations of the people you are describing.

"Fourth, look interested, and, if possible, be interested in what other people say. Do not let your eyes or your attention wander. A good listener is never a bore.

"We cannot all handle foils with skill, but we can all toss back the conversational ball when it is thrown at us, and it should be tossed back lightly—not hurled in the face of our opponent, who should be regarded as a partner in the social game rather than as an antagonist."

Too many people, afflicted with logical minds, seem to think that every conversation has to be an argument instead of a cooperative discussion, and that they are under moral obligations to prove something every time they open their mouths.

Alienated Affections

One of the unfortunate things about children going to college, or even to high school, is that sometimes it has a quite unforeseen effect, making a breach between them and their parents. The father and mother, after making big sacrifices for the boys' and girls' education, find the latter drawing away from them.

The children may not become really "ashamed of their parents." They will surely not feel that way if there is the right stuff in them. But they do come to feel, in many cases, a wide divergence of understanding and sympathy. Parents and children no longer have common interests. The children, in their growth, have grown away from their parents.

Sometimes this is the children's fault. In their rapid progress, they may become impatient of their plodding elders. That brings about much heart-burning, sometimes real tragedy. But there are two sides to it.

"The trouble with parents," says an indignant young college lad, "is their tendency to sniff at every suggestion or idea we spring on them. They don't keep pace with what is new, and don't try to understand what we're doing, and they brand what we learn as mere rubbish. So sometimes we simply have to pass them up in order to make any real progress."

A tolerant and understanding attitude toward the children, all the way from kindergarten to college graduation, is as important as the education itself. And whatever differerence there may be between parents and children in the matter of knowledge may be bridged by sympathetic interest in them and their work. Personal sympathy holds families together, in spite of varied interests.

CHAPTER THIRTY-NINE.

At last he had finished his disquisition. The last paper was laid in its appointed place in a stout leather portfolio on the desk in front of him, and he leaned back with the air of a man who has finished a laborious but necessary task.

"All complete now," he said. "Report in full activities of organization now ready for fifteenth. Annual meeting this year convenient dividends for all. managing director. Make very satisfactory report. Results most gratifying and well repay strenuous labors of past."

He crossed his legs and lighted a cigarette.

I went straight to the point which was beginning to take first place in my mind.

"Why have you told me all this?" I asked.

"Honorable custom of Japan," he replied, "to amuse honorable guest who condescends take interest in humble concerns of unworthy host."

"Do you imagine," I said, "that I shall ever become a party to your infamous trade? I shall denounce you at the first opportunity."

"I know very well that," he said quietly. "Yess. I quite appreciate upright character of honorable guest. He go straight to police, when he get away. I very sorry obliged to restrict honorable movements of upright American gentleman. But Japanese nation always polite. Regret inconvenience to intelligent and honest person and endeavor to find suitable pastime. He come to my private office, read many private papers. Japanese host enter at critical moment. So Japanese host stand whisky-soda and politely stimulate interest in good work, 'put his wise,' as is expressed in United States. Necessary now forever keep firm eye on honored guest in view of possible verbal indiscretion. Cannot afford to run risk of inconvenience arising out of remarks of clever, unsympathetic American banker.

"What do you propose to do?" I cried.

"Request you stay as before with other patients," he said.

I rose from my chair and he looked at me steadily.

"Do I anticipate onslaught of honorable and very powerful guest? He very headstrong man. Advise him look at antique cabinet beside him."

I turned my eyes in the direction which he indicated. A tall cabinet or press stood close to my left hand. Its two long doors were fantastically carved by some medieval craftsman of the fifteenth century. The scene represented "The Last Judgment." Heaven with Christ enthroned, surrounded by the elect, was depicted in the upper part, and in the lower part hell was represented by a huge grinning monster with wide-open jaws swallowing the damned. In the center was carved a great Michael holding the scales, his face severe and majestic. His right hand, which should in accordance with the conventions of medevial art, have held a sword was not visible, the place being taken by a large inverted keyhole, a long slot ending in a circular hole evidently designed to receive a large key. As I looked at the slot, I saw behind it the gleam of an eye, and at the same instant became aware of the glint of a pistol barrel. The muzzle touched the hole in the door of the press and pointed, when I sat facing the Center, straight at the small of my back. As I looked, a soft sentence in Japanese was hissed from the aperture. A sign from the little Japanese and I was a dead man.

"Mention was made," continued the Center, after I had sufficiently inspected the press, "of bringing compelled visit to end after fifteenth. Fear this now quite impossible. You learned too much, Mr. Quexter. I told too much. You will accordingly remain here to end of story."

He paused an instant before pronouncing the last word, which he spoke with a quiet malicious emphasis.

I was pretty desperate by then, though not yet down and out.

"That's fine," I replied. "But what about my friends? What about the bank I serve. You don't imagine they will allow me to disappear without making inquiries, do you?"

"They not make inquiries much," he answered, taking several sheets of paper covered with typewriting from a drawer. "Not when they receive satisfactory explanations."

Upon this he handed me the following letter typed on headed paper:

Klinik Eidelweiss,
Heffelbach in der Nable von
Basel.
Hausartz
Dr. Joannes Kuntz.

Dear Merridick, (Merridick was the name of my chief at the Bank) I am sending this to tell you that it will be impossible, I fair, for me to return at the end of my leave. I have suddenly been struck down in an acute attack of appedicitis, was rushed here in an ambulance, and am to be operated upon tomorrow. Please do not be in the least concerned about me. I am in excellent hands and am receiving every attention though it will naturally be some weeks before I shall be about again.

I will let you know the result of the operation as soon as I can.

Very truly yours,
ROBERT W. QUEXTER.

I read this document in amazement. It was just such a letter as I would have written had the circumstances described in it actually taken place. My signature was entirely correct, so much so that I could have sworn it to be genuine had I not known that it was a forgery.

I glanced at the other papers. They were both letters to the bank from Doctor Kuntz, the first stating that the operation had been successful, but that the patient was very weak, the second, dated some days later, that I was slightly better, and was progressing as well as could be expected.

"Those settle immediate inquiries," remarked the Center. "Deal with future ones by other means."

I looked at him in silence. I could find no words. I recognized now that he had me beat.

French Net Champion Has No Rigid Rules To Keep in Shape

TAMPA, Fla.,—Professional playing has increased her interest in tennis, Suzanne Lenglen, French net champion, declared during her stay here to give exhibitions.

"Why shouldn't it? I'm playing against the finest players in the world all the time," she said.

There is no rigid training for the French tennis star.

"I drink, smoke, stay up late, enjoy life and I think that is the best way to train," she said. Sometimes, before a big match, I have trained and been so good, and then again I have been bored to death with myself.

"When one is bored, that is not good for training. It is much better to enjoy life in moderation.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

CHAPTER THIRTY-NINE.

At last he had finished his disquisition. The last paper was laid in its appointed place in a stout leather portfolio on the desk in front of him, and he leaned back with the air of a man who has finished a laborious but necessary task.

"All complete now," he said. "Report in full activities of organization now ready for fifteenth. Annual meeting this year convenient dividends for all. managing director. Make very satisfactory report. Results most gratifying and well repay strenuous labors of past."

He crossed his legs and lighted a cigarette.

I went straight to the point which

"Why have you told me all this?" I asked.

What's What in Washington

ENTIRE CIVILIAN GOVERNMENT FOR ISLANDS UNDER BILL

By Charles P. Stewart.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—With all due respect toward the army and navy, there is a growing feeling in congress that military training does not generally fit a man for direction of the destinies of a civilian population in peace time.

CARMI THOMPSON

This thought is back of Senator Willis' bill to take the Philippines and Porto Rico from the war department's administration, to retire the naval governments of the Virgin Islands, Samoa and Guam, and to place them all under control of a Washington "insular office" headed by a director, reporting directly to the president, not actually referred to in the bill as of cabinet rank, but really corresponding to England's colonial minister.

The plan is an outgrowth of suggestions by Carmi Thompson, who recently investigated the Philippines, as President Coolidge's personal representative, and found conditions pretty good, but not quite so good that he didn't believe they could be somewhat improved.

There had been a good many complaints concerning the Philippines. Gov.-Gen. Leonard Wood was beginning to need a clean bill of health not as to the honesty of his intentions but as to his competency.

The general impression in Washington was that Carmi Thompson was sent to the islands to find that the adverse criticisms were all nonsense, that Wood was an ideal governor-general, that the Filipinos weren't ripe for independence and that the archipelago was a perfectly safe place for American rubber growers to invest money, in full security that their investments would remain under the American flag.

Carmi did it, in substance, but he did it with a qualifying clause.

Everything was lovely, he said. The islands weren't fit for self government. There were no signs of sedition. Wood's rule was all that anybody could ask.

But wasn't it a pity that the governor-general could have only army men for advisers!—nice men, but so unfamiliar with the problems of civil life.

Carmi's hint was followed by preparation of the Willis bill. If there's a "regular" in Washington it's Willis of Ohio, chairman of the senate territories committee. When he introduces a bill, it means it has mighty solid support.

And Willis' bill not only takes in the Philippines; it takes in all America's overseas possessions, too. It aims to do a thorough job.

The kicking in Porto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Samoa and Guam has not been on as large a scale as the Filipinos.' Their populations are relatively small. Still, they have kicked.

Guam, for instance, has complained bitterly of the ukase imposed on it by one of tts naval governors prohibiting whistling. It fretted him, so he banned it, by law.

Willis, while recognizing the excellence of army and navy governors' intentions as far away islands' czars, holds that civilian government understands better what's what in ordinary every-day intercourse, and trade.

Tail Lights for Cops.

BRADFORD, YORKS, Eng. — Tail lights are henceforth to be carried by Bradford's mounted policemen.

Some time ago a policeman was run down by an automobile at night. Experiments have resulted in the adoption of a small electric lamp to be carried on the crupper.

No matter what causes it: exposure, colds or irritation from dust and smoking—a cough is a signal that the throat tissues are inflamed and may quickly become breeding places for myriads of germs that lurk in the mucus. If this infection spreads, serious consequences will result.

Get rid of that cough right now before it "settles" in the "danger zone". Take PERTUSSIN at once.

It loosens up congestion promptly, and by stimulating expectoration, helps to rid you of sticky, germ-laden phlegm that clogs the air passages.

PERTUSSIN is a simple herbal remedy—pleasant to take, free from "dope", and has been prescribed by physicians for 20 years.

If your cough has already settled in the "danger zone", you should see your Doctor.

"POPULAR SIN" AT CERAMIC

Florence Vidor Heads All-star Cast in Paramount Film.

With a company which includes such players as Clive Brook, Greta Nissen, Phillip Strange, Andre Beranger and Iris Gray in her support, Florence Vidor's lastest Paramount picture, "The Popular Sin," arrived at the Ceramic theatre today. It is not often that a star is given good stories, casts and directors, all at the same time, but in her brief career as a star, Miss Vidor has been most fortunate. Her first vehicle was Ernest Vajda's "You Never Know Women" which was directed by William Wellman and in which Clive Brook, Lowell Sherman and El Brendel were featured. In her second effort, "The Popular Sin," Miss Vidor had the galaxy of talent mentioned above, the directoral genius of Malcolm St. Clair, and a story by Monta Bell.

"The Popular Sin" takes place against the colorful background provided by Parisian drawing rooms and theatres. Miss Vidor enacts Yvonne Montford, a charming young woman who is unlucky only because of one thing—her husband. He has a penchant for any female except his wife. Naturally, complications are apt to occur and, inevitably, they do. He becomes involved with a vivacious actress and she, with a handsome playwright.

Can you guess what happens? Don't guess—you'd only be wrong!

Police Alarm Boxes Will be Installed In French Capital

PARIS.—Parisians will soon know what a police-alarm box looks like. Fire-alarms are to be found on nearly every street-corner and are very often mistaken for a mail-box by the tourist who looks in vain for the little opening for letters, usually to be found in a lamp-post or beneath the window of the cigar-shop.

Up until now street protection has been dependent upon the good-looking policemen who always walk in pairs, but the officials have learned that they cannot be in all places at once.

France is going to celebrate officially the centenary of Beethoven which is another indication that the war is over.—Kenton News-Republican.

The Best Cough Syrup Is Home-made

Here's an easy way to save $2, and yet have best cough medicine you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this famous home-made cough syrup. But have you ever used it? Thousands of families feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will soon earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. It tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaiacol, which has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

There had been a good many complaints concerning the Philippines. Gov.-Gen. Leonard Wood was beginning to need a clean bill of health not as to the honesty of his intentions but as to his competency.

The general impression in Washington was that Carmi Thompson was sent to the islands to find that the adverse criticisms were all nonsense, that Wood was an ideal governor-general, that the Filipinos weren't ripe for independence and that the archipelago was a perfectly safe place for American rubber growers to invest money, in full security that their investments would remain under the American flag.

Carmi did it, in substance, but he did it with a qualifying clause.

Everything was lovely, he said. The islands weren't fit for self government. There were no signs of sedition. Wood's rule was all that anybody could ask.

But wasn't it a pity that the governor-general could have only army men for advisers!—nice men, but so unfamiliar with the problems of civil life.

Carmi's hint was followed by preparation of the Willis bill. If there's a "regular" in Washington it's Willis of Ohio, chairman of the senate territories committee. When he introduces a bill, it means it has mighty solid support.

And Willis' bill not only takes in the Philippines; it takes in all America's overseas possessions, too. It aims to do a thorough job.

The kicking in Porto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Samoa and Guam has not been on as large a scale as the Filipinos.' Their populations are relatively small. Still, they have kicked.

Guam, for instance, has complained bitterly of the ukase imposed on it by one of tts naval governors prohibiting whistling. It fretted him, so he banned it, by law.

Willis, while recognizing the excellence of army and navy governors' intentions as far away islands' czars, holds that civilian government understands better what's what in ordinary every-day intercourse, and trade.

Tail Lights for Cops.

No matter what causes it: exposure, colds or irritation from dust and smoking—a cough is a signal that the throat tissues are inflamed and may quickly become breeding places for myriads of germs that lurk in the mucus. If this infection spreads, serious consequences will result.

Get rid of that cough right now before it "settles" in the "danger zone". Take PERTUSSIN at once.

It loosens up congestion promptly, and by stimulating expectoration, helps to rid you of sticky, germ-laden phlegm that clogs the air passages.

PERTUSSIN is a simple herbal remedy—pleasant to take, free from "dope", and has been prescribed by physicians for 20 years.

If your cough has already settled in the "danger zone", you should see your Doctor.

"POPULAR SIN" AT CERAMIC

Florence Vidor Heads All-star Cast in Paramount Film.

With a company which includes such players as Clive Brook, Greta Nissen, Phillip Strange, Andre Beranger and Iris Gray in her support, Florence Vidor's lastest Paramount picture, "The Popular Sin," arrived at the Ceramic theatre today. It is not often that a star is given good stories, casts and directors, all at the same time, but in her brief career as a star, Miss Vidor has been most fortunate. Her first vehicle was Ernest Vajda's "You Never Know Women" which was directed by William Wellman and in which Clive Brook, Lowell Sherman and El Brendel were featured. In her second effort, "The Popular Sin," Miss Vidor had the galaxy of talent mentioned above, the directoral genius of Malcolm St. Clair, and a story by Monta Bell.

"The Popular Sin" takes place against the colorful background provided by Parisian drawing rooms and theatres. Miss Vidor enacts Yvonne Montford, a charming young woman who is unlucky only because of one thing—her husband. He has a penchant for any female except his wife. Naturally, complications are apt to occur and, inevitably, they do. He becomes involved with a vivacious actress and she, with a handsome playwright.

Can you guess what happens? Don't guess—you'd only be wrong!

Police Alarm Boxes Will be Installed In French Capital

PARIS.—Parisians will soon know what a police-alarm box looks like. Fire-alarms are to be found on nearly every street-corner and are very often mistaken for a mail-box by the tourist who looks in vain for the little opening for letters, usually to be found in a lamp-post or beneath the window of the cigar-shop.

Up until now street protection has been dependent upon the good-looking policemen who always walk in pairs, but the officials have learned that they cannot be in all places at once.

The Best Cough Syrup Is Home-made

Here's an easy way to save $2, and yet have best cough medicine you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this famous home-made cough syrup. But have you ever used it? Thousands of families feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will soon earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. It tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaiacol, which has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

SENATE INSURGENTS TURN GUNS ON BANKING ACT

58 SENATORS ASK CLOTURE, SPEEDING VOTE

Predict Passage on Wednesday of McFadden-Pepper Bill.

PLAN EXPLAINED

By William K. Hutchinson.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Somewhat paralleling the famous battle of Andrew Jackson against the United States bank, senate insurgents today waged war against further extension of the federal banking system by opposing enactment of the McFadden-Pepper banking act.

Jackson drove the U. S. bank out of existence, but the insurgent bloc faced almost certain defeat. A cloture petition, signed by 58 senators, lay on the desk of Vice-President Dawes to be submitted to the senate at 1 o'clock tomorrow for a vote on the question of shutting off further debate. As supporters of the bill command more than enough votes to adopt cloture, a final vote enacting the bill will be taken by the senate sometime Wednesday. It will then go to the president.

The action of the banking leaders in actually invoking cloture for the third time in the present generation created considerable bad feeling. Opponents of the bill charged the measure was being "railroaded" through congress, and that they were being "steam-rollered."

Provisions of Bill.

The provisions of the bill, which will have a far-reaching influence upon American banks, are:

1. Granting an indeterminate charter to the federal reserve system and all its banks, thus substituting an "for all time" charter or the existing one, which expires in 1934.

2. Permitting national banks to enlarge in the investment business, by which they can use savings deposits—under certain conditions—to purchase real estate.

3. Allowing national banks to establish branch banks within the limits of the city in which the parent bank is located, if the state laws permit branch banking by state banks.

4. Allowing a state bank, which has branch banks "up-state" or outside the city in which the parent bank is located, to bring all these branches into the federal system if the state bank becomes a national bank.

Insurgents' Charges.

The first two of these provisions aroused the greatest opposition from the insurgents. They asked why the federal reserve system was being given an indeterminate charter seven years before the present charter expires and charged such action would establish the reserve system as a "financial octopus" over American business. They also charged the "investment provision" would permit national banks to gamble in real estate speculation and the brokerage business.

Roy Green Throws Sugar Bowl Which Wrecks Coffee Urn

Roy Green, West Sixth street, was fined $10 and costs by Municipal Judge Hanley today after he entered a plea of guilty to a charge of malicious destruction of property, preferred by G. Georgeu, proprietor of a Washington street restaurant.

Green is alleged to have thrown a sugar bowl at the restaurant owner early Saturday morning. His aim was poor and the sugar bowl struck a coffee urn, causing damage, according to Georgeu, amounting to $66.50. Green, who arranged to pay the damages, was arrested by Patrolman William Lister.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative mixed with olive oil.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

The Egyptians gladly accepted his rule.

Always accept any man's religious idea politely. The more ridiculous they are the more polite you should be.

EVERYTHING is comparative. If the income tax suit in Washington goes against the government, that will mean a saving of $9,000,000 to Henry Ford, who has nothing to do with the suit. And that won't make the slightest difference to Ford one way or the other. He wouldn't even have to sign the check, somebody would do that for him and it would only be like taking one apple off a barrel.

"Marvelous to be rich," the crowd will say. But the Japanese that Mr. Babst saw at work get one cent an hour, and to them a Ford employe is as rich as Ford is to the employe.

GERMANY has had enough war for the present, and isn't sending any expeditions to China. But, according to Hamburger Volks Zeitung, German manufacturers are shipping arms and ammunition to China by the shipload. The weapons are politely labeled "sport rifles," perhaps a fairly accurate description.

LON CHANEY AT AMERICAN

Battle Scene in Picture, "Tell It To Marines."

"Official" film scenes are the odd embellishment to "Tell It To The Marines," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's epic of the Marine Corps now at the American theatre.

The big battle scene, filmed on the plans near Chatsworth, and in which several hundred regular marines battle against Chinese bandits and hold a bridge, was a "two in one" affair. Primarily, for the picture, it was a great climax for the story. But primarily for the marines, it was practice maneuver.

Lon Chaney plays the leading character role as a veteran sergeant, and William Haines the romantic lead as a recruit. Others in the cast are Eleanor Boardman in the principal feminine role, Carmel Myers, Eddie Gribbon, Mitchell Lewis, Frank Currier, Maurice Kains and others of note.

Four Automobiles Reported Stolen Here Over Sunday

An epidemic of automobile stealing prevailed in East Liverpool over the week-end, four machines having been stolen. Up to the noon hour today but one of the missing cars had been recovered.

A Reo truck, belonging to Harry Carson, 1016 Florence street, was taken from a garage in Green lane last night. It carried license number T-93-960.

Thomas Palmer, motion picture machine operator at the Strand theatre, reported to Patrolman James Haley at 1:10 o'clock this morning that his Overland sedan was taken while parked in front of the Odd Fellows' Temple Sunday night. It carried Pennsylvania license number 351-836.

Sandy Bottom Home Raided; Man and Three Women Held

Frank Little, nightwatchman, residing in Sandy Bottom, East End, will face Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley at 1:30 Wednesday afternoon upon charges of running a disorderly house. Chief McDermott and Captain Conley raided Little's home Saturday afternoon and found three women of "questionable reputation," they say, loitering in the place. Little pleaded not guilty this morning and was released upon his own recognizance.

SIEBERT ESCAPES JAIL SENTENCE

Upon promise today of Harry R. Seibert, New Castle, Pa., to pay the costs and $25 immediately to his wife as well as $25 monthly toward the support of two minor children, Judge J. C. Hanley suspended a 30-day jail sentence. Seibert's wife, Blanche, charged him with non-support of the children.

Earl Donahew, Broadway, was fined $50 and committed to the county jail upon an intoxication charge. He was arrested Saturday evening in Broadway, by Patrolman Haley.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—All departments moved up to a higher range of prices in early trading today in response to aggressive speculative buying, sponsored mostly by the professionals in and out of Wall Street. Estimates of an unusually heavy outstanding short interest have stimulated confident bullish operations in many stock in which the floating is comparatively small. Dividend talk in Wabash and New Haven common stocks, which again eclipsed their best price records in more than a decade. In the case of New Haven, which sold up to 57¼, market rumors were to the effect that Pennsylvania Railroad was acquiring the stock with a view to leasing the road on a guaranty of 4 per cent. Dividends to common stockholders. Wabash was also mentioned for a 4 per cent. dividend annually.

Leaders in the forward move in industrial shares included U. S. Steel, which gaines about a point, Dupont, up 2¾; General Motors up 3; Hudson Motors up 2; Woolworth up 1½; Smelters up 1½; Allied Chemical up 1; Westinghouse up 2; Baldwin Locomotive up 1½.

The financial and commodity markets were practically unchanged. Call money was in good supply at 4 per cent. The government's cotton consumption report showed a slight falling off in January. Grain was firm and foreign exchange steady.

Danger of Tie-up.

Certain it is, however that unless there are wholesale concessions by both sides from the proposals originally presented, there is danger of a tie-up in the bituminous industry, which is admitted by both groups to be in none too healthy a condition.

The operators today agreed upon Herman C. Perry of Hillsboro, Ill., as the spokesman.

CLARK FILES $10,666 SUIT

Attorney Seeks to Collect Fees for Legal Services.

Attorney G. Jay Clark of this city through his attorneys Hill & Davidson, also of this city, has filed suit in the common pleas court at Lisbon, against Rose A. Murphy, for an attorney fees amounting to the sum of $10,666.66 and for a loan amounting to the sum of $907.00, which Clark alleges he advanced his client who was ill and helpless and in need of money.

In March, 1925, Attorney Clark filed action in the district court, Cleveland, in behalf of Rose A. Murphy, then residing in Sebring, Ohio, demanding $100,000 damages from the Pennsylvania railroad company on account of personal injuries she had sustained, as she claimed because of the wrongful and negligent acts of the company, while riding as a passenger in one of their trains near Homewood Junction, Pa.

Soon after the case was filed in Cleveland, Rose Murphy removed to Greensburg, Pa., and requested her attorney to dismiss the case against the railroad company in the Cleveland court there so that she could have him file her case in the district court of western Pennsylvania. Recently, it is claimed that she settled with the railroad company for $35,000 and her attorney wants his share of the settlement for fees agreed upon plus the money he has loaned her.

Anti-Annexationists Ask New Trial in Fight Against City

Motion for a new trial in the proposed annexation of the Maplewood, Park boulevard, Lincoln Highway and other residential sections to the city of East Liverpool, was filed today in common pleas court, Lisbon, by Attorney Charles Boyd and Harry Brokaw, representing anti-annexationists.

In a ruling handed down by Judge Thomas D. Price, New Lexington, Friday afternoon, the decision of the county commissioners, approving annexation, was upheld and the injunction proceedings dismissed.

Attorney Boyd said today it had not been determined whether the case would be carried to the appellate court on error if a motion for a new trial were refused.

General Spring Drive Looms in Yangtse River Region.

SHANGHAI, Feb. 14. — Although there were no untoward incidents the Chinese vernacular press declared that Chinese indignation as at a high pitch as the result of the landing here today of the Gloucester and Durham regiments of the British army.

These troops marched through the streets of Shanghai with fixed bayonets and the Chinese press declares this was "a totally unnecessary insult to the Chinese."

Fighting in Chekiang province is continuing. Casualties are mounting and General Sun Chuan Fang is busily engaged in recruiting in Shanghai, Kiangso and Chekiang.

Troops On Move.

PEKING, Feb. 14.—With hundreds of thousands of troops on the move a general spring offensive in the region of the Yangtse river is in prospect.

Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, war lord governor of Manchuria and the actual power behind the Peking government, convinced of the inability of Marshal Wu Pei-Fu to prosecute an active campaign against the Cantonese forces at Hankow, today began the movement of 50,000 of his Feng-Tien troops across the Yellow river to occupy Chenchow. This city is in Honan province, the stronghold of Wu Pei-Fu, and constitutes the invasion of Honan by Chang's troops which Wu last week warned Chang would be contested by Wu's troops. Chenchow is on the direct railway line between Hankow and Peking.

American military observers who have recently returned from the war zone predict that Chang Tso Lin's drive for Hankow will succeed, but if they make efforts to win successes further south they will have great difficulty owing to the low watery terrain.

William E. Wright Enlists in Army, Goes to Hawaii

Grossman will remain here until Wednesday evening.

FOREST MERCER IS FINED $46

Calcutta Man Alleged to Have Interfered With Patrolman.

Forest "Buck" Mercer of Calcutta, paid fines totaling $46.60, after a hearing before Municipal Judge Hanley Sunday morning on charges of intoxication and interfering with a patrolman. Another charge of assault, preferred by Arthur T. Hull, has been filed against Mercer.

Jacob Fetty, Dixonville, who was arrested with Mercer, drew a fine of $10 and costs upon an intoxication charge.

They were arrested near the Alderson coal yards, Beleek street, Saturday afternoon by Patrolman Roth after they are alleged to have created a disturbance in a Mulberry street pool room. Hull claims that he was standing on Mulberry street when Mercer approached him and without a word of warning stabbed him in the thigh with a penknife.

When Roth and Special Patrolman Curran arrived in the motor patrol, Mercer and Fetty had disappeared but they were apprehended a few minutes later. While enroute down the River road to the jail, the two men are alleged to have attacked Roth. Mercer was knocked unconscious by a blow from the officer's club and Fetty was also subdued after a battle.

DR. W. B. CALDWELL AT THE AGE OF 83

Mother! It's Cruel to "Physic" Your Child

To Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, it seemed cruel that so many constipated infants and children had to be kept constantly "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all children's little ills, he did not believe that a sickening "purge" or "physic" was necessary.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which helps to establish natural bowel "regularity" even if the child is chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but, best of all, it never gripes, sickens or upsets the most delicate system. Besides, it is absolutely harmless, and so pleasant that even a cross, feverish, bilious, sick child gladly takes it.

SENATE INSURGENTS TURN GUNS ON BANKING ACT

58 SENATORS ASK CLOTURE, SPEEDING VOTE

Predict Passage on Wednesday of McFadden-Pepper Bill.

PLAN EXPLAINED

By William K. Hutchinson.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Somewhat paralleling the famous battle of Andrew Jackson against the United States bank, senate insurgents today waged war against further extension of the federal banking system by opposing enactment of the McFadden-Pepper banking act.

Jackson drove the U. S. bank out of existence, but the insurgent bloc faced almost certain defeat. A cloture petition, signed by 58 senators, lay on the desk of Vice-President Dawes to be submitted to the senate at 1 o'clock tomorrow for a vote on the question of shutting off further debate. As supporters of the bill command more than enough votes to adopt cloture, a final vote enacting the bill will be taken by the senate sometime Wednesday. It will then go to the president.

The action of the banking leaders in actually invoking cloture for the third time in the present generation created considerable bad feeling. Opponents of the bill charged the measure was being "railroaded" through congress, and that they were being "steam-rollered."

Provisions of Bill.

The provisions of the bill, which will have a far-reaching influence upon American banks, are:

1. Granting an indeterminate charter to the federal reserve system and all its banks, thus substituting an "for all time" charter or the existing one, which expires in 1934.

2. Permitting national banks to enlarge in the investment business, by which they can use savings deposits—under certain conditions—to purchase real estate.

3. Allowing national banks to establish branch banks within the limits of the city in which the parent bank is located, if the state laws permit branch banking by state banks.

4. Allowing a state bank, which has branch banks "up-state" or outside the city in which the parent bank is located, to bring all these branches into the federal system if the state bank becomes a national bank.

Insurgents' Charges.

The first two of these provisions aroused the greatest opposition from the insurgents. They asked why the federal reserve system was being given an indeterminate charter seven years before the present charter expires and charged such action would establish the reserve system as a "financial octopus" over American business. They also charged the "investment provision" would permit national banks to gamble in real estate speculation and the brokerage business.

Roy Green Throws Sugar Bowl Which Wrecks Coffee Urn

Roy Green, West Sixth street, was fined $10 and costs by Municipal Judge Hanley today after he entered a plea of guilty to a charge of malicious destruction of property, preferred by G. Georgeu, proprietor of a Washington street restaurant.

Green is alleged to have thrown a sugar bowl at the restaurant owner early Saturday morning. His aim was poor and the sugar bowl struck a coffee urn, causing damage, according to Georgeu, amounting to $66.50. Green, who arranged to pay the damages, was arrested by Patrolman William Lister.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative mixed with olive oil.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

The Egyptians gladly accepted his rule.

Always accept any man's religious idea politely. The more ridiculous they are the more polite you should be.

EVERYTHING is comparative. If the income tax suit in Washington goes against the government, that will mean a saving of $9,000,000 to Henry Ford, who has nothing to do with the suit. And that won't make the slightest difference to Ford one way or the other. He wouldn't even have to sign the check, somebody would do that for him and it would only be like taking one apple off a barrel.

"Marvelous to be rich," the crowd will say. But the Japanese that Mr. Babst saw at work get one cent an hour, and to them a Ford employe is as rich as Ford is to the employe.

GERMANY has had enough war for the present, and isn't sending any expeditions to China. But, according to Hamburger Volks Zeitung, German manufacturers are shipping arms and ammunition to China by the shipload. The weapons are politely labeled "sport rifles," perhaps a fairly accurate description.

LON CHANEY AT AMERICAN

Battle Scene in Picture, "Tell It To Marines."

"Official" film scenes are the odd embellishment to "Tell It To The Marines," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's epic of the Marine Corps now at the American theatre.

The big battle scene, filmed on the plans near Chatsworth, and in which several hundred regular marines battle against Chinese bandits and hold a bridge, was a "two in one" affair. Primarily, for the picture, it was a great climax for the story. But primarily for the marines, it was practice maneuver.

Lon Chaney plays the leading character role as a veteran sergeant, and William Haines the romantic lead as a recruit. Others in the cast are Eleanor Boardman in the principal feminine role, Carmel Myers, Eddie Gribbon, Mitchell Lewis, Frank Currier, Maurice Kains and others of note.

Four Automobiles Reported Stolen Here Over Sunday

An epidemic of automobile stealing prevailed in East Liverpool over the week-end, four machines having been stolen. Up to the noon hour today but one of the missing cars had been recovered.

A Reo truck, belonging to Harry Carson, 1016 Florence street, was taken from a garage in Green lane last night. It carried license number T-93-960.

Thomas Palmer, motion picture machine operator at the Strand theatre, reported to Patrolman James Haley at 1:10 o'clock this morning that his Overland sedan was taken while parked in front of the Odd Fellows' Temple Sunday night. It carried Pennsylvania license number 351-836.

Sandy Bottom Home Raided; Man and Three Women Held

Frank Little, nightwatchman, residing in Sandy Bottom, East End, will face Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley at 1:30 Wednesday afternoon upon charges of running a disorderly house. Chief McDermott and Captain Conley raided Little's home Saturday afternoon and found three women of "questionable reputation," they say, loitering in the place. Little pleaded not guilty this morning and was released upon his own recognizance.

Upon promise today of Harry R. Seibert, New Castle, Pa., to pay the costs and $25 immediately to his wife as well as $25 monthly toward the support of two minor children, Judge J. C. Hanley suspended a 30-day jail sentence. Seibert's wife, Blanche, charged him with non-support of the children.

Earl Donahew, Broadway, was fined $50 and committed to the county jail upon an intoxication charge. He was arrested Saturday evening in Broadway, by Patrolman Haley.

Danger of Tie-up.

Certain it is, however that unless there are wholesale concessions by both sides from the proposals originally presented, there is danger of a tie-up in the bituminous industry, which is admitted by both groups to be in none too healthy a condition.

CLARK FILES $10,666 SUIT

Attorney Seeks to Collect Fees for Legal Services.

Attorney G. Jay Clark of this city through his attorneys Hill & Davidson, also of this city, has filed suit in the common pleas court at Lisbon, against Rose A. Murphy, for an attorney fees amounting to the sum of $10,666.66 and for a loan amounting to the sum of $907.00, which Clark alleges he advanced his client who was ill and helpless and in need of money.

In March, 1925, Attorney Clark filed action in the district court, Cleveland, in behalf of Rose A. Murphy, then residing in Sebring, Ohio, demanding $100,000 damages from the Pennsylvania railroad company on account of personal injuries she had sustained, as she claimed because of the wrongful and negligent acts of the company, while riding as a passenger in one of their trains near Homewood Junction, Pa.

Soon after the case was filed in Cleveland, Rose Murphy removed to Greensburg, Pa., and requested her attorney to dismiss the case against the railroad company in the Cleveland court there so that she could have him file her case in the district court of western Pennsylvania. Recently, it is claimed that she settled with the railroad company for $35,000 and her attorney wants his share of the settlement for fees agreed upon plus the money he has loaned her.

These troops marched through the streets of Shanghai with fixed bayonets and the Chinese press declares this was "a totally unnecessary insult to the Chinese."

Fighting in Chekiang province is continuing. Casualties are mounting and General Sun Chuan Fang is busily engaged in recruiting in Shanghai, Kiangso and Chekiang.

Troops On Move.

PEKING, Feb. 14.—With hundreds of thousands of troops on the move a general spring offensive in the region of the Yangtse river is in prospect.

Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, war lord governor of Manchuria and the actual power behind the Peking government, convinced of the inability of Marshal Wu Pei-Fu to prosecute an active campaign against the Cantonese forces at Hankow, today began the movement of 50,000 of his Feng-Tien troops across the Yellow river to occupy Chenchow. This city is in Honan province, the stronghold of Wu Pei-Fu, and constitutes the invasion of Honan by Chang's troops which Wu last week warned Chang would be contested by Wu's troops. Chenchow is on the direct railway line between Hankow and Peking.

American military observers who have recently returned from the war zone predict that Chang Tso Lin's drive for Hankow will succeed, but if they make efforts to win successes further south they will have great difficulty owing to the low watery terrain.

DR. W. A. KNAPP AND HIS PARTY CLOSE REVIVAL

Two Sunday Sermons Given in Methodist Protestant Church.

MANY CONVERTS

Evangelist Goes to Springfield, Ohio, for Campaign.

'Mid strains of the appealing campaign song, "I Have the Joy Down in My Heart," the three-weeks' Methodist Protestant revival following two compelling sermons by Dr. W. A. Knapp, Westerville evangelist, and a narration of his life story by G. E. Vinaroff, of Chicago, soloist and musical director, during the day, was concluded last evening.

Despite the inclement weather prevailing crowds attended all services. Conversions and reconsecrations were had in all the meetings, while in the afternoon, at the conclusion of Mr. Vinaroff's address, a trio of young persons signified their intention of engaging later in religious work.

Particularly gratifying was the accomplishment of exceeding by 40 the stipulated Sunday school attendance quota of 404, the second showing 444 present. The preceding Sunday the wished for 403 lacked 23, but in the initial Sunday effort the suggested total of 303 was exceeded by 23.

"Be faithful, don't get discouraged, keep on and hold on" were Dr. Knapp's final injunctions to those accepting and renewing allegience to Jesus Christ before saying goodbye and pronouncing the benediction. "Read the Bible regularly, pray every day and try to lead some one else to the Nazarene," he continued. "And finally, if hard pressed by temptations or trouble consult your pastor, Rev. Mr. Dimit. He will go far in putting you in right paths again. If you will do all these things all the evils functioning can't keep you down."

Opportunity for membership with the church will be afforded the new converts on next Sunday morning.

"I have enjoyed being in East Liverpool and in this church during this series of meetings;" Dr. Knapp confided in his valedictory. The results of our mutual efforts, I am sure, will go far in the ultimate development of God's kingdom. I have been and am grateful for your personal aid and sympathy, the superb loyalty and work of officials, members and the choir, the organist, Miss Jessie Hall, and, of course, Mr. and Mrs. Vinaroff, who have served as they always do with me.

"Meetings like these cost somewhat, but you will find in renewed activity and developed enthusiasm plus increased attendance they will be worth the expenditure made.

"I wish also to express my personal appreciation of the publicity given the revival by your excellent paper, The Review-Tribune.

"I shall go away carrying a deep feeling of affection for the church and your revered pastor, Rev. Mr. Dimit. May you mutually prosper in the Lord and be the means of bringing many into a saving knowledge of the Saviour of mankind."

Urging the fact that rejection of Christ was the chief sin possible by man and more heinous in God's sight than even the commission of seeming major sins, Dr. Knapp spread keen conviction throughout his hearers in his final discourse on Sunday evening. "What God wants is for you to accept Him through His Son Christ and listen to the pleadings of the Holy Spirit which thereafter once you do and experience the new birth that comes with regeneration will keep and lead you in paths of perfect peace," he said.

In kindred vein Mr. Vinaroff spoke his appreciation of his East Liverpool engagement. "I have enjoyed the Christian fellowship in this church," he declared. "As always when we conclude our meetings Mrs. Vinaroff and I leave with regret."

The evangelistic party will separate for a period following the revival's end. Dr. Knapp will go directly to the United Brethren church in Springfield, Ohio. Then he is scheduled in turn to return to Dayton, Ohio, and Columbia City, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Vinaroff will proceed to Arcana, 25 miles northwest of Dayton, for their next service following which they will go in turn to Huntington, W. Va., and Robinson, Ill.

Accompanied on the organ by Miss Jessie Hall and on the piano by Mrs. Vinaroff the choir, directed by Mr. Vinaroff gave as its final revival anthem, "Awake." With Rowland Kaufman, Mr. Vinaroff sang "Weary and Worn in the Battle of Life." The invocation was by Rev. Mr. Dimit.

With rare humor and pathos Mr. Vinaroff disclosed his identity as a Macedonian. There, as a lad he was led to Christianity following his parents, who listened to foreign missionaries behind closed doors. Following his father to Birmingham, Ala., he had a varied experience and joined the American army to learn the English language. "There I learned to gamble with dice and cards. Though I prayed every night," he said, "the soldiers, knowing me to be a hypocrite threw shoes at me. After leaving the army, he was genuinely converted in a skating rink meeting in the west and promised to become a singing evangelist.

"You can't keep cards in your home without training children to become potential gamblers," he vehemently affirmed. "Even at bridge if your offer a prize through the mails you are liable as a misdemeanor."

How he overcome the vicissitudes of going through a course at Moody Bible school which prefaced his present work was vividly told.

"I have been in the evangelistic work for 13 years," he said. "In this interval I have led 7,000 souls to Christ and composed some 40 or 50 songs. This concludes my 142nd meeting since starting out for the Lord."

"The saddest things I observe are churches with plenty of finances for everything but the development of souls for Christ's service. What good could be done to aid persons like myself 'who are working hard to get thorough Bible training institutions.

Preceding his talk he sang in the Macedonion tongue the hymn "Saved By Grace." He was accompanied by Mrs. Vinaroff.

"We have had a fine series of meeting," opined Rev. Mr. Dimit, the church pastor. "Tthe attendance has been good. We have had splendid cooperation. We have all been helped as Christians. God pity the church in which the revival spirit has died. I have never had such splendid aides as Dr. Knapp and Mr. and Mrs. Vinaroff."

"The Keeping Power of God" was the theme of Dr. Knapp's Sunday morning discourse which was distinctly a sermon to converts and those reclaimed during the service now concluded.

The invocation was by Rev. Dimit, the pastor. Mr. Vinaroff sang, 'Home At Last."

"The Second Coming of Christ' was Dr. Knapp's subject on Saturday evening. "Science can give us no information on this theme," he said "Our only information anent it comes from the Bible. It says He will come again."

The children's choir sang appealingly at this service, the invocation was by Rev. O. L. Benedum, pastor of the Nazarene church and the solo sung by Mr. Vinaroff was "Christ Will Hold Me Fast."

Madrid will have a new bull-fight ring.

Because he had tied together the toes of his whippet, which was a 6 to 1 shot favorite in a race and ran very poorly, the owner was fined heavily at Glasgow.

The Value of Human Life at all ages

"Broke"— but Worth $79,100

Dad earns $50 a week. He has just paid the rent, the grocery bill and the milk bill. He says he is "broke, but happy".... In reality, he and his family are worth a small fortune.... This American family represents $79,100 of the nation's wealth.

ALMOST any man will agree that his life is more valuable to himself than the things he owns. Now he can have the comfort of knowing how valuable his life is to others—from a dollars-and-cents standpoint.

Today it is known that the lives of our men, women and children are the nation's greatest asset. The economic value of these lives completely overshadows the value of all of our material wealth.

Recent computations made by statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company show the real economic value of the lives of our people from babyhood to old age. These figures are based on the average family—with an average income—and take into consideration the average length of life of each member of the family, together with the cost of bringing children into the world, feeding them, clothing them, educating them and bringing them up to a self-supporting basis.

Long lives and short lives—small incomes and big incomes—are reckoned in these calculations. At 40, a man earning $100 a week is rated as having an economic value of $45,670. At 30, the $50-a-week man represents a value of $31,000. He had a value of $9,333 the day he was born. *

—And then come the figures showing the total economic value of all the men, women and children of the United States—the astounding total of 1,500 billion dollars ($1,500,000,000,000).

* If you wish to find out how much each member of your family is worth, economically, send for a booklet recently prepared by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company—it tells how a person of any age may measure the economic value of his or her life. It will be mailed free.

Perhaps the easiest way to realize this stupendous figure is to compare it with the total value of the entire material wealth of our country.

The latest available government reports show that everything we own—land, buildings, railroads, mines, raw materials, manufactured products, crops, live stock—everything included—was 321 billions.... Our lives are worth nearly five times as much as our property.

America can well be proud of the additional insurance placed on the valuable lives of her people in 1926. More than 16 billion dollars ($16,000,000,000) was written and revived during the year by about 300 life insurance companies—making the total amount of life insurance in force approximately 80 billion dollars ($80,000,000,000). About one sixth of the grand total is carried by the Metropolitan.

But while the people of this country carry 80 billion dollars of life insurance—or only one-twentieth of the economic value of their lives—they carry more than 160 billions of insurance on property—more than one-half of its value.

You would not insure a $5,000 house for $250—one twentieth of its value. You insure it adequately. But have you insured yourself adequately? Send for the booklet which tells you what you are worth. Study it. Then decide whether or not you carry enough insurance to protect your family.

America is rapidly gaining a better knowledge of the value of its greatest wealth—human lives.

The America of the future will better safeguard its wealth and happiness.

DR. W. A. KNAPP AND HIS PARTY CLOSE REVIVAL

Two Sunday Sermons Given in Methodist Protestant Church.

MANY CONVERTS

Evangelist Goes to Springfield, Ohio, for Campaign.

'Mid strains of the appealing campaign song, "I Have the Joy Down in My Heart," the three-weeks' Methodist Protestant revival following two compelling sermons by Dr. W. A. Knapp, Westerville evangelist, and a narration of his life story by G. E. Vinaroff, of Chicago, soloist and musical director, during the day, was concluded last evening.

Despite the inclement weather prevailing crowds attended all services. Conversions and reconsecrations were had in all the meetings, while in the afternoon, at the conclusion of Mr. Vinaroff's address, a trio of young persons signified their intention of engaging later in religious work.

Particularly gratifying was the accomplishment of exceeding by 40 the stipulated Sunday school attendance quota of 404, the second showing 444 present. The preceding Sunday the wished for 403 lacked 23, but in the initial Sunday effort the suggested total of 303 was exceeded by 23.

"Be faithful, don't get discouraged, keep on and hold on" were Dr. Knapp's final injunctions to those accepting and renewing allegience to Jesus Christ before saying goodbye and pronouncing the benediction. "Read the Bible regularly, pray every day and try to lead some one else to the Nazarene," he continued. "And finally, if hard pressed by temptations or trouble consult your pastor, Rev. Mr. Dimit. He will go far in putting you in right paths again. If you will do all these things all the evils functioning can't keep you down."

Opportunity for membership with the church will be afforded the new converts on next Sunday morning.

"I have enjoyed being in East Liverpool and in this church during this series of meetings;" Dr. Knapp confided in his valedictory. "The results of our mutual efforts, I am sure, will go far in the ultimate development of God's kingdom. I have been and am grateful for your personal aid and sympathy, the superb loyalty and work of officials, members and the choir, the organist, Miss Jessie Hall, and, of course, Mr. and Mrs. Vinaroff, who have served as they always do with me.

"Meetings like these cost somewhat, but you will find in renewed activity and developed enthusiasm plus increased attendance they will be worth the expenditure made.

"I wish also to express my personal appreciation of the publicity given the revival by your excellent paper, The Review-Tribune.

"I shall go away carrying a deep feeling of affection for the church and your revered pastor, Rev. Mr. Dimit. May you mutually prosper in the Lord and be the means of bringing many into a saving knowledge of the Saviour of mankind."

Mr. and Mrs. Vinaroff will proceed to Arcana, 25 miles northwest of Dayton, for their next service following which they will go in turn to Huntington, W. Va., and Robinson, Ill.

PREMIUM LIST TO BE REVISED

Decision Reached at Meeting of County Fair Board.

The premium list for the county fair at Lisbon next September is to be revised, it was determined at a meeting of the fair board Saturday afternoon at Lisbon, the detail to be worked out by Secretary H. E. Marsden.

Representatives of the County Farm Bureau, Jersey Cattle club, the Holstein Breeders' association, the Columbiana-Mahoning County Breeders' association and the Columbiana County Co-operative Wool Growers' association met with the board for the purpose of discussing the revision of the premium list.

Under the program as outlined, it is the purpose of the fair board to make the premium list so attractive that a larger entry list of live stock will be recorded next fall. The cooperation of the different interests represented at the joint meeting Saturday has been guaranteed upon the revision of the premium list, and this has been agreed to by the fair board.

Live stock entries at the county fair last September were below normal, and with the premium list made more attractive to breeders and live stock owners, it is proposed to have double the live stock entries next fall.

SEEK NEW TRIAL IN DIVORCE CASE

A motion to set aside a divorce and grant a new trial has been filed in the case of Ida Utt against her husband James Utt, the motion being filed for the defendant by his counsel George E. Davidson of East Liverpool.

It is related in the motion that the case was assigned for trial Feb. 11, and that the defendant had no notice that the case would be up for trial Feb 9th when a decree was granted the plaintiff. The defendant in his motion declares that he has a good defense, and was informed and believed the plaintiff had withdrawn the petition. The court has not passed upon the motion.

County Service Club Plan Entertainment For Health League

President Hover Deemer of the Lisbon Kiwanis club this week will make final arrangements for the entertainment at Lisbon Feb. 24 of committees from all Kiwanis, Lions and Rotary clubs in the county when there will be a discussion concerning the aid these different unit organizations can extend toward the erection of permanent buildings for the Public Health League camp.

Sale of Christmas seals has alawys brought sufficient return for the overhead expense of the camp for the season, but there has always been more or less inconvenience experienced in the matter of permanent buildings.

Now that the county commissioners have agreed to allow the use of a seven-acre tract of land adjoining the county home property for summer camp purposes, the health league is now seeking assistance from organizations to erect permanent buildings.

A year ago the Lisbon Kiwanis club spent an afternoon at the camp and erected a building, the only cost involved being for lumber and nails. Contractor John Morrow donated his services as master erector. Such assistance is now desired from members of other clubs, it being said that with many assisting, one building can be erected during an afternoon.

THREE DIVORCE ACTIONS FILED

Chester Miller through his counsel James E. Davis, has filed an action for divorce in common pleas court against his wife, Elizabeth Miller, said to be residing at Greensburg, Pa. Wilful absence for over a period of three years is charged in the complaint. The couple were married Feb. 21, 1923.

On the same grounds, a petition has been filed by Thomas Virden against his wife Lillie V. Virden, said to be residing at Chester, W. Va. The couple were married April 1, 1914.

Attorneys Hill and Davidson of East Liverpool have filed a petition for divorce in common pleas court for Mary T. Thorne against William B. Thorne, a motorman employed by the Steubenville, East Liverpool and Beaver Valley Traction company who resides at Steubenville. In this petition the plaintiff charges the defendant with infidelity. This marriage took place Dec. 20, 1920, at East Liverpool.

In this case the plaintiff in addition to a decree, seeks alimony for the support of the children and also the custody of the minors.

County Service Club Plan Entertainment For Health League

President Hover Deemer of the Lisbon Kiwanis club this week will make final arrangements for the entertainment at Lisbon Feb. 24 of committees from all Kiwanis, Lions and Rotary clubs in the county when there will be a discussion concerning the aid these different unit organizations can extend toward the erection of permanent buildings for the Public Health League camp.

Sale of Christmas seals has alawys brought sufficient return for the overhead expense of the camp for the season, but there has always been more or less inconvenience experienced in the matter of permanent buildings.

Now that the county commissioners have agreed to allow the use of a seven-acre tract of land adjoining the county home property for summer camp purposes, the health league is now seeking assistance from organizations to erect permanent buildings.

A year ago the Lisbon Kiwanis club spent an afternoon at the camp and erected a building, the only cost involved being for lumber and nails. Contractor John Morrow donated his services as master erector. Such assistance is now desired from members of other clubs, it being said that with many assisting, one building can be erected during an afternoon.

Ben Romano lives at 799 Bowery St., Akron, Ohio. A native of Birmingham, Ala., he has a host of friends in that city. While working for the Sloss-Sheffield Iron Company there, he spared no effort to succeed, putting all his strength and energy into his work. "Lugging pig iron ten hours a day takes strength and vitality," said Mr. Romano, "and in the end it got me. For three months I was played out, nervous—on the verge of a breakdown.

"My stomach and liver went back on me, and heartburn, gas and sourness, kept me in constant misery. I could neither eat, sleep nor digest normally, so grew steadily weaker. Shortly before coming to Akron I started on Tanlac and have been in the pink of condition ever since. My friends would congratulate me on my improvement and I would always say that Tanlac and nothing else is responsible for the change. It certainly put an end to my troubles."

After the "Flu" is over —you need a Tonic

Help Is Needed to Restore Your Wasted Strength and Energy.

"Flu" leaves the body weakened and rundown. In such cases, a tonic is clearly indicated. Restore the appetite and rid yourself of that let-down feeling.

"Flu" is a very enervating disease. It leaves its victims so weak and debilitated that there is as much danger from the after-effects as from the disease itself. In other words, after an attack of the "flu," you need a selective tonic to rebuild the system so that you may have your old-time strength and energy restored.

You owe it to yourself and family to give S. S. S. a trial. It helps Nature build up red blood corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the body is nourished. It is time-tried and reliable. S. S. S. is made from the roots of fresh herbs and plants, and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Tells Why He Can Now Eat Hearty

"A letter which I read in the paper about Carter's Little Liver Pills fitted my own case so closely that I could not help trying them and am very happy I did." So writes Mr. Frank J. Trumbull of Jersey City, N. J., whose letter goes on to say: "I had heard about Carter's Little Liver Pills for years but never knew they helped overcome poor appetite and sour stomach until I read about another man in the same plight who took Carter's with good results. I tried them and can honestly say that they freed me of nasty gas on stomach, so that I can now eat without getting bilious, and they improved my appetite fully 100%. You can rest assured that from now on I will boost Carter's Little Liver Pills whenever I can."

"JURY STILL OUT" AS MALONEY-DELANEY PRIME FOR FRIDAY BOUT

Previous Performances Fail to Provide Good Forecast.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14—It looked liked a "hung" jury today on that absorbing Delaney-Maloney case, five days before the battle of the great indoors was to be carried to a show-down. In fact, the situation simply defied the boys to reach a conclusion, since the "holes" in the records of both principals made it possible to argue for or against yourself with an equal chance of collecting from one pocket and paying off in the other.

Jack Delaney is the type of fighter who will start them rioting at the turnstiles. Much of his reputation is built around his fights with Paul Berlenbach. Yet the common impression is that, for more than a year, Berlenbach hasn't been the man he used to be; as a matter of fact, some suspect that he never was.

Before I become identified as a fishmonger among a lot of tenor singers, permit me to say that I regard Jack Delaney as a great light heavyweight. But as a heavyweight contender, he hasn't proved anything yet I suppose I am damning the man with faint praise but if it be treason, make the most of it. To me, Delaney is an untried heavyweight and will so remain until Friday.

Ability Yet Unproven.

His knockout of Bud Gorman was sensational in its effect; yet it was without particular significance, since Gorman has a chin that is as fragile as a wine glass. The Gorman fight has been Delaney's only major heavyweight engagement to date.

Therefore, throwing out all the glamor of and clamor about the man, it stands to reason that the burden of proof is yet to be furnished. You couldn't, for example, prove his ability as a heavyweight by his victories over Tiger Flowers and Mike McTigue. These were impressive only for light heavyweight purposes.

Delaney's knockouts by Augie Ratner and Young Fisher may be charitably disregarded as coming before he fully developed. His bad showing with Pal Reed and Bryan Downey also can be thrown out on that ground, to say nothing of the fact that Delaney wasn't really a well man at any time before the late months of 1926.

Now for Maloney. This rather obese young man has come along from nowhere to fame in three months. He fought around Boston for some years with reasonable success but thought so little of himself that he retired from circulation for a time. This was due partly to managerial troubles and partly to the fact that he seemed to be going nowhere with great rapidity. Once he was knocked out by one Leo Gates; on another occasion he lost to Sharkey on a foul and not so long ago he won from King Solomon on what might be called a foul tip.

Maloney's Weight Will Count.

That's the picture of Maloney as he was. This is the young man as he is: He stopped Arthur De Kuh, a natural canvasback; he outstepped Franz Deiner, a willing German; he won easily from Harry Persson, an unwilling Swede. That is the build up on Maloney in its entirety.

If Delaney were bigger and stronger, one might be justified in giving him the cakes right now and calling it a contest. He has proved himself a master marksman, a great one-punch hitter and a fast, clever, brainy boxer-heh as proved everything, in fact, except the essential question of whether he really is a heavyweight in the first place. The party is fatheaded who says that 25-pound pull Maloney has in the weights will make little difference.

However, Delaney is a "money" fighter who is good when he has to be. Also, he has added strength and health without sacrificing speed. He is a "killer" with a right cross to the jaw, but, on the other hand, the punch is virtually no good unless it lands. Maloney has a trick of carrying his left shoulder ultra-high and Delaney may be forced to do business with the body, which may not be to his advantage because of the disparity in the weights.

Some of the boys have picked their winner already but that game can be beaten off beyond all contest. I may pick mine Saturday morning.

MICHIGAN FIVE FACES CRISIS

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—University of Michigan's basketball five face the crisis of their struggle for another big ten championship tomorrow night when they go up against the tough Purdue team at Lafayette.

Wisconsin and Purdue bettered their positions during the past week, while Michigan was idle. The Badgers defeated Chicago Saturday night, 31 to 20, while Purdue put one in the win column during the middle of the week.

Iowa pulled the surprise of the season Saturday night by tipping over the fast going Illini, 26 to 24. Minnesota, after nine straight defeats, almost a conference record, managed to negotiate a victory Saturday, defeating the other weak sister of the big ten, Northwestern, 29 to 24.

Pays Tribute to Ability of 'Dim' Zange as Referee

Johnny Freund, Pittsburgh basketball expert, sticks to Dim Zange, president of the Columbiana County Amateur Basketball league, as one of the greatest cage referees of all time.

Following a recent conversation with Bill Powell in Pittsburgh, Freund comments to the effect that the promoters of the county circuit knew their stuff when they engaged Zange as the league Landis, for, as he says, "Dim always was one of the keenest students of the game."

Although recognizing the fact that there are a number of mighty fine referees around this part of the country, Freund asserts that "Zange could give the average authority of today cards and spades and beat him to it."

Freund also has some nice things to say of Powell, who is coaching the Elks' team here. "Bill," he observes, "was the game's greatest center."

East Liverpool and East Palestine high school passers split even in the matter of victories in a double bill at the high school court Saturday night, but the lion's share of the honors went to the Blue and White in the main clash of the event, a decisive 36 to 16 win over the visiting boys' squad wiping out the stigma of the defeat sustained on the enemy court early in the season.

The local girls were losers in the preliminary, 37 to 20.

But though the East Palestine boys played good basketball all the way they were up against a combination of passers entirely too fast for them. The playing of Captain Jim Hamilton and the rest of the Blue and White gang was far superior to that of the visitors, both offensively and defensively.

With the exception of the first period East Palestine never had a look-in. The local defense worked to perfection, the Brown and White finding the rims for only five field goals and two of the double deckers were made on mid-floor tosses, while the locals went up beneath the basket for the majority of their scoring.

East Palestine started off like winners, Harvey throwing in a basket from mid-floor and scoring a foul. English was first to register for the locals, counting on a pretty side shot. He then put High in the lead with another double decker. He was fouled in the attempt and added another point on a gift throw. Hamilton and English dropped in two more and the count was 9 to 3. Points by Orndorff and Dolan made the count 9 to 7 in favor of E. L. H. S. at the end of the period.

The second period was all in favor of the Blue and White. East Palestine scored only one foul, while Hamilton, Larkins and McKeever penetrated the visiting defense for four double deckers, the tally standing 17 to 8 at the half way mark.

Lorah's passers continued to set the pace down the third quarter, the score shooting up to 24-12 for the period. Then the local mentor sent in his second stringers, Bloor, Wildblood, Todd and Ankrim, seeing action in the last act. They outclassed the Palestine passers almost as cleverly as their predecessors. Before the game ended, the regulars were back and the varsity flingers pushed the count up from 26 to 36 while the opposition was adding four points.

The entire local squad played a classy game. English was the scoring star, while the playing of Larkins and McConville was worthy of special mention.

"JURY STILL OUT" AS MALONEY-DELANEY PRIME FOR FRIDAY BOUT

Previous Performances Fail to Provide Good Forecast.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14—It looked liked a "hung" jury today on that absorbing Delaney-Maloney case, five days before the battle of the great indoors was to be carried to a show-down. In fact, the situation simply defied the boys to reach a conclusion, since the "holes" in the records of both principals made it possible to argue for or against yourself with an equal chance of collecting from one pocket and paying off in the other.

Jack Delaney is the type of fighter who will start them rioting at the turnstiles. Much of his reputation is built around his fights with Paul Berlenbach. Yet the common impression is that, for more than a year, Berlenbach hasn't been the man he used to be; as a matter of fact, some suspect that he never was.

Before I become identified as a fishmonger among a lot of tenor singers, permit me to say that I regard Jack Delaney as a great light heavyweight. But as a heavyweight contender, he hasn't proved anything yet. I suppose I am damning the man with faint praise but if it be treason, make the most of it. To me, Delaney is an untried heavyweight and will so remain until Friday.

Ability Yet Unproven.

His knockout of Bud Gorman was sensational in its effect; yet it was without particular significance, since Gorman has a chin that is as fragile as a wine glass. The Gorman fight has been Delaney's only major heavyweight engagement to date.

Therefore, throwing out all the glamor of and clamor about the man, it stands to reason that the burden of proof is yet to be furnished. You couldn't, for example, prove his ability as a heavyweight by his victories over Tiger Flowers and Mike McTigue. These were impressive only for light heavyweight purposes.

Delaney's knockouts by Augie Ratner and Young Fisher may be charitably disregarded as coming before he fully developed. His bad showing with Pal Reed and Bryan Downey also can be thrown out on that ground, to say nothing of the fact that Delaney wasn't really a well man at any time before the late months of 1926.

Now for Maloney. This rather obese young man has come along from nowhere to fame in three months. He fought around Boston for some years with reasonable success but thought so little of himself that he retired from circulation for a time. This was due partly to managerial troubles and partly to the fact that he seemed to be going nowhere with great rapidity. Once he was knocked out by one Leo Gates; on another occasion he lost to Sharkey on a foul and not so long ago he won from King Solomon on what might be called a foul tip.

Maloney's Weight Will Count.

That's the picture of Maloney as he was. This is the young man as he is: He stopped Arthur De Kuh, a natufal canvasback; he outstepped Franz Deiner, a willing German; he won easily from Harry Persson, an unwilling Swede. That is the build up on Maloney in its entirety.

If Delaney were bigger and stronger, one might be justified in giving him the cakes right now and calling it a contest. He has proved himself a master marksman, a great one-punch hitter and a fast, clever, brainy boxer-heh as proved everything, in fact, except the essential question of whether he really is a heavyweight in the first place. The party is fatheaded who says that 25-pound pull Maloney has in the weights will make little difference.

However, Delaney is a "money" fighter who is good when he has to be. Also, he has added strength and health without sacrificing speed. He is a "killer" with a right cross to the jaw, but, on the other hand, the punch is virtually no good unless it lands. Maloney has a trick of carrying his left shoulder ultra-high and Delaney may be forced to do business with the body, which may not be to his advantage because of the disparity in the weights.

Some of the boys have picked their winner already but that game can be beaten off beyond all contest. I may pick mine Saturday morning.

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—University of Michigan's basketball five face the crisis of their struggle for another big ten championship tomorrow night when they go up against the tough Purdue team at Lafayette.

On the result of this game hangs the hope of at least two other schools for the big western conference honor. They are Wisconsin, now in second place, and the Boilermakers themselves, now in third place.

If Purdue succeeds in upsetting the undefeated Wolverines, these three schools, Michigan, Wisconsin and Purdue will be deadlocked in first place, each with five victories and one defeat.

Wisconsin and Purdue bettered their positions during the past week, while Michigan was idle. The Badgers defeated Chicago Saturday night, 31 to 20, while Purdue put one in the win column during the middle of the week.

Iowa pulled the surprise of the season Saturday night by tipping over the fast going Illini, 26 to 24. Minnesota, after nine straight defeats, almost a conference record, managed to negotiate a victory Saturday, defeating the other weak sister of the big ten, Northwestern, 29 to 24.

Pays Tribute to Ability of 'Dim' Zange as Referee

Johnny Freund, Pittsburgh basketball expert, sticks to Dim Zange, president of the Columbiana County Amateur Basketball league, as one of the greatest cage referees of all time.

Following a recent conversation with Bill Powell in Pittsburgh, Freund comments to the effect that the promoters of the county circuit knew their stuff when they engaged Zange as the league Landis, for, as he says, "Dim always was one of the keenest students of the game."

Although recognizing the fact that there are a number of mighty fine referees around this part of the country, Freund asserts that "Zange could give the average authority of today cards and spades and beat him to it."

Freund also has some nice things to say of Powell, who is coaching the Elks' team here. "Bill," he observes, "was the game's greatest center."

East Liverpool and East Palestine high school passers split even in the matter of victories in a double bill at the high school court Saturday night, but the lion's share of the honors went to the Blue and White in the main clash of the event, a decisive 36 to 16 win over the visiting boys' squad wiping out the stigma of the defeat sustained on the enemy court early in the season.

The local girls were losers in the preliminary, 37 to 20.

But though the East Palestine boys played good basketball all the way they were up against a combination of passers entirely too fast for them. The playing of Captain Jim Hamilton and the rest of the Blue and White gang was far superior to that of the visitors, both offensively and defensively.

With the exception of the first period East Palestine never had a look-in. The local defense worked to perfection, the Brown and White finding the rims for only five field goals and two of the double deckers were made on mid-floor tosses, while the locals went up beneath the basket for the majority of their scoring.

East Palestine started off like winners, Harvey throwing in a basket from mid-floor and scoring a foul. English was first to register for the locals, counting on a pretty side shot. He then put High in the lead with another double decker. He was fouled in the attempt and added another point on a gift throw. Hamilton and English dropped in two more and the count was 9 to 3. Points by Orndorff and Dolan made the count 9 to 7 in favor of E. L. H. S. at the end of the period.

The second period was all in favor of the Blue and White. East Palestine scored only one foul, while Hamilton, Larkins and McKeever penetrated the visiting defense for four double deckers, the tally standing 17 to 8 at the half way mark.

Lorah's passers continued to set the pace down the third quarter, the score shooting up to 24-12 for the period. Then the local mentor sent in his second stringers, Bloor, Wildblood, Todd and Ankrim, seeing action in the last act. They outclassed the Palestine passers almost as cleverly as their predecessors. Before the game ended, the regulars were back and the varsity flingers pushed the count up from 26 to 36 while the opposition was adding four points.

The entire local squad played a classy game. English was the scoring star, while the playing of Larkins and McConville was worthy of special mention.

Haskin's Letter

Mr. Wickersham, who was the man chosen to be Attorney General by the man who was once President of the United States and is now the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, heaved his brickbat at Senator Borah's devoted head when he wrote:

"I am and always have been opposed to Borah's Outlawry of War plan, as far as I can understand it. I think it is making peace by resolution, which I think wholly impracticable."

Professor Fisher said that with the deaths of President Woodrow Wilson and Senator Henry Cabot Lodge the old enmities which blinded men's eyes in regard to the League of Nations, and, to some extent, the World Court, have largely disappeared. And while interest in the subject has also somewhat abated the country seems ready now to consider this subject anew in the light of experience, with the actual working of the League and the Court.

The only obstacles so far as general public opinion is concerned, according to the Yale professor, are indifference and confusion. The confusion has been brought about, he thinks, and he concedes that it has been rather cleverly done, through the offer of substitutes for the League and the Court. Many people have been and are still being deluded in this way, he says, and while perfectly sincere themselves they have been made use of by insincere politicians, who have resorted to the well known political trick of offering substitutes as red herrings across the trail.

Now For The Fish.

"There have been three red herrings," says Professor Fisher. "The first was the 'Association of Nations' proposal, by which an effort was made to kill 'the' League of Nations by offering 'a' League. The second was the attempt to revivify the so-called old Hague Tribunal as a substitute for the International Court of Justice—thus trying to kill 'the' Court by offering 'a' court in its place. And, third, there is the effort to concentrate the attention of peace-lovers on the proposal to 'outlaw war.' The aphorism, beware of Greeks offering gifts, might well be heeded by proponents of the Court and the League."

Where, he asks, is the "Association of Nations" to-day? Why, if it were a sincere movement, has it not been pressed by those who proposed it? Where is the proposal to revivify the so-called Hague Tribunal? That, also, is all but forgotten. It is obvious today that there can be no Association of Nations but the one which now exists, nor any World Court other than the court which now exists. The old Hague Tribunal was not a court, but a panel or list of names of possible arbitrators. But the third red herring, says Professor Fisher, is still in evidence.

It was first drawn across the political trail by Senator Knox to help defeat the League of Nations, he contends, and it is now being drawn across the trail by Senator Borah for the same purpose. He says that Senator Borah has introduced his outlawry-of-war resolution three times, but nothing has been done about it, not a particle of progress has been made toward passing it through the Senate, and it is as dead as a herring that has been dragged across innumerable trails.

"Of course," says Professor Fisher, "no one can oppose the outlawry of war. That is the object of every sane peace movement, but the only outlawry that is feasible is the outlawry through the League and the Court."

After that the learned doctor embarks upon a discussion of the relative merits of "an" and a "a," which makes it rather difficult for the lay mind, and leads to the thought that war will be outlawed or called off when the poor dumb brutes who are relied upon to fight wars decide that they are not mad enough to fight and quit on the job. A strike against war may be the next world-wide demonstration.

The government of British South Africa is seeking a method to stop the evasion of the license law by more than half the radio users there.

Mr. Wickersham, who was the man chosen to be Attorney General by the man who was once President of the United States and is now the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, heaved his brickbat at Senator Borah's devoted head when he wrote:

"I am and always have been opposed to Borah's Outlawry of War plan, as far as I can understand it. I think it is making peace by resolution, which I think wholly impracticable."

Professor Fisher said that with the deaths of President Woodrow Wilson and Senator Henry Cabot Lodge the old enmities which blinded men's eyes in regard to the League of Nations, and, to some extent, the World Court, have largely disappeared. And while interest in the subject has also somewhat abated the country seems ready now to consider this subject anew in the light of experience, with the actual working of the League and the Court.

The only obstacles so far as general public opinion is concerned, according to the Yale professor, are indifference and confusion. The confusion has been brought about, he thinks, and he concedes that it has been rather cleverly done, through the offer of substitutes for the League and the Court. Many people have been and are still being deluded in this way, he says, and while perfectly sincere themselves they have been made use of by insincere politicians, who have resorted to the well known political trick of offering substitutes as red herrings across the trail.

Now For The Fish.

"There have been three red herrings," says Professor Fisher. "The first was the 'Association of Nations' proposal, by which an effort was made to kill 'the' League of Nations by offering 'a' League. The second was the attempt to revivify the so-called old Hague Tribunal as a substitute for the International Court of Justice—thus trying to kill 'the' Court by offering 'a' court in its place. And, third, there is the effort to concentrate the attention of peace-lovers on the proposal to 'outlaw war.' The aphorism, beware of Greeks offering gifts, might well be heeded by proponents of the Court and the League."

Where, he asks, is the "Association of Nations" to-day? Why, if it were a sincere movement, has it not been pressed by those who proposed it? Where is the proposal to revivify the so-called Hague Tribunal? That, also, is all but forgotten. It is obvious today that there can be no Association of Nations but the one which now exists, nor any World Court other than the court which now exists. The old Hague Tribunal was not a court, but a panel or list of names of possible arbitrators. But the third red herring, says Professor Fisher, is still in evidence.

It was first drawn across the political trail by Senator Knox to help defeat the League of Nations, he contends, and it is now being drawn across the trail by Senator Borah for the same purpose. He says that Senator Borah has introduced his outlawry-of-war resolution three times, but nothing has been done about it, not a particle of progress has been made toward passing it through the Senate, and it is as dead as a herring that has been dragged across innumerable trails.

"Of course," says Professor Fisher, "no one can oppose the outlawry of war. That is the object of every sane peace movement, but the only outlawry that is feasible is the outlawry through the League and the Court."

After that the learned doctor embarks upon a discussion of the relative merits of "an" and a "a," which makes it rather difficult for the lay mind, and leads to the thought that war will be outlawed or called off when the poor dumb brutes who are relied upon to fight wars decide that they are not mad enough to fight and quit on the job. A strike against war may be the next world-wide demonstration.

The government of British South Africa is seeking a method to stop the evasion of the license law by more than half the radio users there.

PRISON CAMP IS SHORT OF LABOR

Uncle Sam is facing a labor shortage on the construction of the new women's prison at Alderson, it was revealed last evening by Warden S. P. Smith, of the state prison at Moundsville, in whose custody the federal prisoners in the labor camp down state are placed when they cross the borders of the Mountain State.

Work on constructing the new prison has been moving ahead, regardless of the weather conditions, and there has been little trouble experienced during the past two years on keeping up the man power. But there are now only 65 men in the big camp. Normally the enrollment is 200.

The warden explained that the government had been extending paroles to many of the men at Alderson and the expirations of sentences have been so extensive that the low mark was reached before the prison officials realized what was transpiring.

Virtually all of the men come from the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga. Few if any sent to the labor camp have long to serve when they arrive, and most of them have been sent from points north and by transporting them to Aldersen the government has them closer to their homes than if they were held at Atlanta.

Many Attend Services.

Large number attended services last night in the First United Presbyterian church. The sermon was delivered by Rev. H. A. Kelsey, former pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, East Liverpool, now member of the faculty of Muskingum college, O.

Piles Go Quick

Without Salves or Cutting.

Thousands who have piles don't know that quick and permanent relief can be accomplished with internal medicine. Cutting or any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will not remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is stagnation of blood circulation in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Dr. J. S. Leonhardt found the remedy and called his prescription HEM-ROID. Dr. Leonhardt tried it in many, many cases with a marvelous record of success, such a wonderful record that HEM-ROID is now sold by druggists everywhere under a rigid money-back guarantee.

Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of HEM-ROID from Mathews Original Cut Rate store today. It has given quick and lasting relief to thousands and should do the same for you.

WEIRTON YOUTH HELD FOR COURT

Andro Davaski, of Weirton, was bound over to await the action of the next grand jury when arraigned Friday evening before Justice Morgan Jones. His bond was fixed at $3,000, in default of which he was committed to jail at New Cumberland.

He was arrested at the instigation of his father, who is alleged to have given the police evidence that the youth was responsible for the fire that occurred in the sorting department of the Weirton steel plant three weeks ago.

Church Reception Planned.

Reception for new members will be held Wednesday night in the First Christian church. Program will be given after which refreshments will be served.

Cheery Advice to Nervous Women!

"Thru over-work and worry I suffered a severe nervous breakdown in health," said Mrs. Raymond Rhoades of 20 Camp St., Ashtabula, Ohio. (Picture above.) My nerves seemed to go all to pieces, I would break out all over with a nervous rash, my back ached, I grew so weak and nervous that I was scarcely able to do anything—at the least exertion I would be completely fagged out. But after taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription I got along all right, my nerves quieted down, I never had any more rash and I grew strong, I was greatly improved in health in every way by taking the 'Favorite Prescription.'"

Obtain Dr. Pierce's Prescription now, in liquid or tablets, from your druggist or send 10c for trial pkg. of tablets to Dr. Pierce's in Buffalo, N. Y.

PRISON CAMP IS SHORT OF LABOR

Uncle Sam is facing a labor shortage on the construction of the new women's prison at Alderson, it was revealed last evening by Warden S. P. Smith, of the state prison at Moundsville, in whose custody the federal prisoners in the labor camp down state are placed when they cross the borders of the Mountain State.

Work on constructing the new prison has been moving ahead, regardless of the weather conditions, and there has been little trouble experienced during the past two years on keeping up the man power. But there are now only 65 men in the big camp. Normally the enrollment is 200.

The warden explained that the government had been extending paroles to many of the men at Alderson and the expirations of sentences have been so extensive that the low mark was reached before the prison officials realized what was transpiring.

Virtually all of the men come from the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga. Few if any sent to the labor camp have long to serve when they arrive, and most of them have been sent from points north and by transporting them to Alderson the government has them closer to their homes than if they were held at Atlanta.

Many Attend Services.

Large number attended services last night in the First United Presbyterian church. The sermon was delivered by Rev. H. A. Kelsey, former pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, East Liverpool, now member of the faculty of Muskingum college, O.

Piles Go Quick

Without Salves or Cutting.

Thousands who have piles don't know that quick and permanent relief can be accomplished with internal medicine. Cutting or any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will not remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is stagnation of blood circulation in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Dr. J. S. Leonhardt found the remedy and called his prescription HEM-ROID. Dr. Leonhardt tried it in many, many cases with a marvelous record of success, such a wonderful record that HEM-ROID is now sold by druggists everywhere under a rigid money-back guarantee.

Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of HEM-ROID from Mathews Original Cut Rate store today. It has given quick and lasting relief to thousands and should do the same for you.

Cheery Advice to Nervous Women!

"Thru over-work and worry I suffered a severe nervous breakdown in health," said Mrs. Raymond Rhoades of 20 Camp St., Ashtabula, Ohio. (Picture above.) My nerves seemed to go all to pieces, I would break out all over with a nervous rash, my back ached, I grew so weak and nervous that I was scarcely able to do anything—at the least exertion I would be completely fagged out. But after taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription I got along all right, my nerves quieted down, I never had any more rash and I grew strong, I was greatly improved in health in every way by taking the 'Favorite Prescription.'"

TRIBUTE TO LINCOLN

Many mistaken things have been said and written about Abraham Lincoln, says Rev. Frank G. Fowler, D. D., pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, in a Lincoln birthday story. See page 1.

FULTZ REINSTATED BY COURT

STATE TIGHTENS NET ABOUT BEN RUDNER

Today

Mr. Babst Sees Man Power. Like Caesar and T. R. He Worshipped the Bull. Ford and His Millions.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

[The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.]

EARL D. BABST told a gathering of friends a few days ago his observations on a trip around the world, devoted to studying sugar production in Java, the Philippines and Hawaii, two things impressed Mr. Babst.

From Genoa to California he traveled 20,000 miles by land and sea, and not one of the countries he visited, from Egypt onward, had actual self-government except Japan. All the others take orders from statesmen and businessmen in Europe.

Most impressive also was "the man power of the east," in Java, on territory equal to New York state, he saw 40,000,000 human beings supporting themselves by agriculture, harvesting crops with sharp knives, carrying them on their heads at a trot, tearing up their cane fields by the roots every year, and replanting them. A country of 40,000,000 people without a weed growing.

Mr. Babst emphasized the extraordinary efficiency with which the Dutch manage their colonies.

How long will a handful of intelligent men on the foggy British islands dictate to 300,000,000 human beings in India, 400,000,000 in China, other millions in Africa and elsewhere?

The answer is that the few that can think will dictate to the hundreds of millions until they learn to think, or until some leader comes to do their thinking for them.

MUSSOLINI is like Caesar—he dreams of vast empires and works practically to make them real. He is like Theodore Roosevelt and does not like to be left out of any fight.

He tells Britain that he sympathizes with the British attitude on China and is sending an Italian battleship to represent him there, and may send an expeditionary force.

A courageous Italian, Marco Polo, was first to explore and give a real account of that mysterious far east, and Italy does not mean to be left out of any Chinese settlement.

IN EGYPT, archaelogists discovered a huge sarcophagus, 11 feet long, 8 feet wide, 10 feet deep. There were no giants in those Egypthian days, so the big coffin undoubtedly contains the mummy of some sacred bull.

The sacred bull was worshiped, carefully fed, the Egytian people went into mourning when he died, and rejoiced when the priests announced the birth of a genuine sacred bull calf to take the dead bull's place.

When a Persian conqueror heard of Egypt's bull-god Apis, he ordered the animal slaughtered and ate part to show that he was greater than the God.

Alexander, the Great, much wiser worshiped the bull's god politely, said it was one of the finest gods he ever saw, and passed on.

MASSILLON MERCHANTS CALLED IN TRIAL OF ALLEGED "PAY-OFF" MAN

OHIOANS STORE COAL IN FEAR OF MINE TIE-UP

Miners and Operators Seemingly as Far Apart as Poles.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 14.—Industrial establishments in Ohio today were reported heavily stocking coal, in preparation for a possible coal miners' strike, should the negotiations between miners and operators of the central competitive field opening today at Miami, Fla., fail to result in a wage agreement.

It is believed that a coal price slump in this territory will follow a wage agreement, should the miners and operators agree, because of the heavy supplies accumulated by most industrial users, and in view of the slackening winter domestic demand which will come with the expiration of the Jacksonville wage agreement, March 31.

"Peddling" mines in the southern Ohio fields were reported today working full shifts to supply the demand from industrial users who are laying in supplies.

Spokesman is Named.

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 14.—Seemingly as far apart as the poles, the soft coal miners and operators came together today for their perennial fight over wages. The miners want increased wages; the operators want to slash the pay.

The conference was summoned to draw a new wage scale for the Jacksonville agreement which expires March 31. Unless an agreement, permanent or temporary, is reached, approximately 350,000 union bituminous miners will walk out of the pits at the expiration of the present contract.

None of the responsible union or operator officials really believe that there will be a strike this year. They believe that a compromise, though it can be effected only after the sharp-

One Witness Swears That he Was Introduced to "Trigger Man" in Ben's Hardware Store.

CANTON, O., Feb. 14.—The state attempted today to draw more closely its net of evidence against Ben Rudner, charged with having been the "pay-off" man in the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton's vice crusading editor who was murdered last July.

Hinted "Big Doings."

Through the testimony of two Massillon business men, both known to Rudner, they brought out evidence tending to link Rudner with Pat McDermott, the "trigger man," now serving a life sentence in the Ohio penitentiary for the crime.

William Brunne under direct examination testified that a week before the murder he was introduced to Pat McDermott by Rudner in Rudner's hardware store.

"'Bill'" Brunne testified, Rudner said to him, "'I want you to meet Mr. McDermott, another unfortunate fellow who served time with me in Atlanta.'"

Rudner had testified in the McDermott trial that he had never known McDermott.

Stanley Baltzic, a Massillon druggist, testified that a short time before the Mellett murder, Rudner told him: "There'll be big doings in Canton pretty soon."

State Witness Recalled.

Brunne's testimony came as a complete surprise. He was a witness in the McDermott trial, but at that time made no reference to the introduction in the Rudner store.

Brunne, under cross-examination by E. L. Mills and George Gordon Battle, defense lawyers, admitted that he had twice been convicted on charges of assault. The attorneys, however, were unable to get him to alter his main story as told on direct examination.

Merton A. Robinson, a fire arms expart, testified that the bullet which killed Mellett was fired from a .38 calibre Smith & Wesson pistol. A second bullet picked up in the yard was fired from a different make of pistol, he added.

Frank Schlagel, a druggist near the late Mellett home, testified that he saw McDermott and Steve Kascholk together near the Mellott home about a week before the murder.

EIGHT KILLED, 22 INJURED AS THREE BRITISH TRAINS CRASH

Dense Fog Which Blankets England, is Blamed.

TWO SMASH-UPS

One Collision Occurs at Hull; Wreck at London Bridge.

LONDON, Feb. 14.—Eight persons were killed and at least 15 were injured today when two passenger trains collided head on at Hull during the dense fog which has blanketed England for four days.

The collision occurred at 9 o'clock this morning. A local incoming passenger train smashed with terrific force into an out-going special train. Six coaches of the local train were telescoped.

Rescue parties were quickly formed and searched feverishly among the debris, recovering the bodies of the dead and rescuing the injured.

Death Toll May Reach 12.

Thirty persons were taken to the hospital from the scene of the wreck, and it was feared the number of dead might reach twelve. The telescoped cars carried scores of children on their way to school.

Another wreck, in which seven persons were injured, occurred at London Bridge station, when an incoming train running blind in the fog ran into the stop bumpers.

This was the fourth consecutive day England has been fog-bound. While the fog today was lighter over many districts than it has been during the week-end, it still was heavy over the English channel, London and southern England.

A. D. Sallee, credit manager with the Farmers Deposit National Bank, Pittsburgh, addressed members of the Sunday afternoon club in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A. at 3:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon. His subject was "A Light Heavyweight."

He discussed the development of the boxing profession in recent years and also graphically told of the title bouts which had taken place recently in the sport arena. He asserted that boxing today is not so dangerous as it used to be and that gate receipts for such attractions had increased from thousands to millions of dollars.

"You can't be a champion and be happy" he asserted. "Abe Lincoln said: 'The Lord must love the common people because he made so many of them.' So we find that the common people are the backbone of the nation. Let us not be heavyweights in one endeavor but let us be light heavyweights in all pursuits in life."

POLICE CHIEF SUSPENDED FOR FIVE DAYS IN LISBON RULING

Wellsville Battle Has Unexpected Termination Before Jurist.

Appeal case of John H. Fultz, Wellsville's ousted chief of police, was brought to a sudden and unexpected termination in common pleas court, Lisbon, today, when Judge Thomas D. Price, of New Lexington, restored the officer to full power, after hearing only the opening arguments of the opposing counsel.

Means End of Fight.

Fultz was given a five-day suspension, without pay, by Judge Price, this, in the opinion of the jurist, being sufficient punishment for charges of disobedience, disrespect and unbecoming conduct brought by Mayor W. L. Fogo.

Fultz announced, following the decision, that he would report for duty tonight.

When questioned in Lisbon, Mayor Fogo said that he would not carry the fight to the appellate court.

The case consumed practically 30 minutes of the court's time.

Upholds Reprimand.

Attorneys Ben L. Bennett and Frank E. Grosshans, of East Liverpool, and W. A. O'Grady represented Fultz, while Solicitor S. C. Luccock and Attorney S. W. Crawford, the latter of East Liverpool, were in court for the prosecution.

Judge Price announced that common pleas court and the court of appeals had covered the first Fultz removal fight at great length and that unless there was something unusual in this case, that the findings of the other courts would be adhered to largely.

After the arguments had been finished, Judge Price handed down his decision with dispatch.

He upheld the reprimand given Fultz by Fogo, but asserted that the punishment meted out in the case was too great.

Punishment Too Great, Court Says.

"The man that doesn't make mistakes is pretty flat," the court said. "The man who is chief of police has got to have some backbone and force behind him. I wouldn't want a sissy on any job as chief of police and I don't believe this man is a sissy."

"I think the mayor spoke too hastily and too soon, and that the punishment is too great."

"I am upholding the mayor in his reprimand."

The attorneys then conferred with Judge Price and it was agreed that the order be modified to a suspension of five days without pay and that Fultz be restored to full power as police chief.

With the completion of the "cut-off" between Bayard and Canton that part of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh division between Rochester and Canton is soon to become the busiest link in the Pennsylvania system connecting Chicago and New York, railroad officials said today.

Thousands of tons of freight is now being moved through East Liverpool daily. One day recently 37 trains are said to have passed here within one hour. On another day 56 trains were counted within three hours. Railroad officials estimate that between 100 and 200 freight trains go through this city every day.

Because of the low grades on the C. & P. division, the Pennsylvania company has practically abandoned the Fort Wayne division through East Palestine, Salem and Alliance as a freight road but it will continue as a passenger line. The building of the "cut-off" between Bayard and Canton last year was one step in making the road through East Liverpool the main freight artery in the system.

Many of the through freight trains which pass here carry fruit, fresh meats, produce and perishable goods, which must be rushed with all possible haste. Solid trains of refrigerator cars and live stock pass through here hourly.

Another indication that the C. & P. division is to become a freight line is the fact that the present two-track system is being rebuilt from Rochester to Bayard. The old rails are being replaced with a new 130-pound rail, said to be the heaviest produced. The westbound track from Rochester to Wellsville has already been rebuilt and material for the reconstruction of the eastbound track is now on the ground. Work on the latter track will be started immediately.

Rumors that the Pennsylvania company will make the line through here a four-track system persist although unverified. Considerable additional ground along the right of way would be necessary before such an improvement program could be started and several years would be required for its completition.

The Pennsylvania company, a few years ago, spent more than a million dollars in rebuilding a section of the line west of Salineville. This cut off the town of Millport, but at the same time eliminated a troublesome grade. The only other bad grade on the line is that which begins at Parks tank, east of Salineville, and extends as far as Summitville. Freight locomotives, know as "pushers" are kept at Salineville to assist trains up the three mile climb west of the town. The grade through East Liverpool is not a serious one for the heavy type locomotives which the Pennsy company is now using for through freight trains.

The completion of the Y at Yellow Creek connecting the main and the river road branches is also a factor in increasing the freight traffic over the division. Heretofore freight for Steubenville or Wheeling was taken into the Wellsville yards where it was attached to a down river freight train. By the present arrangement these trains are routed over the new section of track directly to the river road at Yellow Creek, eliminating the delay which usually occurred in the Wellsville yards.

WELLSVILLE MAN DENIES CONSPIRACY CHARGE

HUGH WELLS AND OTHERS TO FACE U. S. COURT

ARREST SHOCK

Accused, in Statement, Says Case Basis is Revenge.

Hugh L. Wells, Cleveland Credit Men's association official, former Wellsville resident, who, as one-time trustee of the bankrupt estate of Elmer L. Volkmor, has ben arrested in Cleveland on a federal warrant charging conspiracy to defraud Volkmor's creditors, declared today that the charge brought against him was unfounded and that the matter can be explained to show he was guilty of no criminality.

The government's investigation which led to the warrants was started by Elmer Volkmor, once the owner of a chain of seven shoe stores and recently sentenced to federal prison for three years on a charge of issuing false financial statements. Volkmor declared his estate had included the five shares of Cleveland Housing Co. stock, but that he had lost the certificate of ownership and had concluded, moreover, that the stock was worthless, so did not list it.

Wells, who had been named trustee of the estate, sold this stock for $50 to Knott and the third man, Volkmor claimed, and the two buyers later sold the same stock for $311.50. The Cleveland Housing Co., a concern fathered by the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce to promote the building of homes, was in liquidation at the time Wells sold the stock, Volkmor told government officials, and could have been sold by him to the liquidators at the full price of $62.30 a share.

Wells admitted he had sold the stock but declared that the missing certificates had presented an obstacle to its sale at the price offered by the liquidators. In order to sell it to the liquidators, he claimed, it would have been necessary for the estate to post a $300 bond as protection against the reappearance of the lost certificates. This, he pointed out would have left only a net $11.50 and, by selling it at $50, he figured he was making a better deal.

Government officials yesterday during their investigation of the matter were concerning themselves about the resale of the stock by Knott and the other man. There was nothing to show, they said, that these two individuals had been compelled to post bond in order to resell the stock.

The government officials claimed in addition, that at some time during the negotiations for the sale of the stock to the two men, affidavit was made by Volkmor to the effect that the stock certificate had been lost. This, they said, would tend to guard against any complications, should the certificate bob up again.

The arrest of Wells and Knott was made Saturday in the federal building when the two appeared in answer to a call from District Attorney Bernstein, summoning them in for a conference.

Bernsteen, who heads the investigation, said yesterday that the warrants issued in the case are based on the one alleged transaction.

"If other facts should be presented to me I would investigate," he said, "but as matters now stand I regard this as one, isolated case."

Cleve H. Pomeroy, president of the Cleveland Association of Credit Men, came to the defense of Wells in a public statement. He says, in part:

"The Adjustment Bureau Co. has retained as manager of the bureau Mr. Hugh Wells for the past six years and Mr. Wells during that time has liquidated on behalf of creditors, hundreds of bankrupt estates and handled millions of dollars of assets in that connection and during that time there has never been the slightest reflection on his integrity."

POLICE NAB TWO IN RAIDS HERE

He was arrested at his place in Main street, between Fourteenth and Fifteenth.

Checkler, also arrested on a possession charge, will be given a hearing Wednesday night before Mayor Fogo.

Devotionals were conducted by the teacher, Miss Loch. After the program a social hour was spent, the affair taking the form of a surprise for Dorothy Jean, honoring her 12th birthday. The class gave her a handkerchief shower. There were three contests, and prizes were awarded to Martha Cameron, Olive Johnson and Christine Hutson. Mrs. John Grant served a two-course chicken dinner, the table being decorated with a birthday cake with 12 candles. The favors were Valentine baskets. Those present were Misses Elizabeth Loch, Louise James, Christine Hutson, Margaret Jean McClellan, Olive Tolson, Martha Cameron, Vivian Lewis, Dorothy Jean Grant, Mary Margaret Grant and Martha Schubert.

The Kiwanis club of Salineville met Thursday noon at the United Presbyterian church. Lunch was served by the Senior society of Missions. Vice President Grant was in charge. The attendance prize, donated by Dr. H. M. Calvin, was awarded to William Eason. A duet, "Roaming in the Gloaming," was given by R. W. Daley and Will Eason. The entertainment committee, Tom Cartwright, J. G. Willis and C. R. Randolph, introduced Paul Reeves, who spoke from the subject, "The Equality of Men." Joseph Burns, chairman of the roads committee, told the club that the organization was asked to work in conjunction with the chamber of commerce of Steubenville and other organizations to get an improved road from Salineville to Bergholz, in Jefferson county that would link Salineville up with Steubenville. The directors held a meeting after lunch.

Mrs. Helen Hill, Main street, was hostess to the Salineville Bridge club recently. Two tables were in play during the evening. The following members were present: Mrs. Vallie Bougher, Mrs. Samuel B. Larkins, Mrs. Jean Taylor, Miss Helen Patterson, Miss Elizabeth Maple, Miss Meryl George, Miss Elizabeth Loch and Miss Fae Smith. The hostess served a lunch.

The Cable Rebekah lodge of Salineville held their business session in the Odd Fellows' hall on Main street recently. After the business was transacted, a social hour was spent music and games being diversions. The committee in charge was Mrs. Laura Summers, Mrs. Valeria Stevens and Mrs. Grace Wallace.

John L. Hutson, who has been sick for some time, is improving nicely.

Chief Strongheart delivered a very interesting lecture at the opera house, Wednesday evening, the fifth and last number of the Lyceum course, under the auspices of the Salineville High school. The chief spoke about the customs and habits of his people, before the "white man" put them on reservations, told of the treatment they are now receiving under the government's agents and made a touching appeal for a square deal for the "Indian." A large crowd heard Chief Strongheart.

Bad Year For Composers.

ROME.—The year 1926 proved a bad one for Italian music, according to the Popolo Di'Roma, which points out with some bitterness that not a single new work of note was produced, no new maestro came to light, and that the known mastros did not produce a single first-class opera during the year.

How to Restore Lost Appetite

And Build Firm, Solid Flesh, And Renew Vitality.

Thousands of men and women lack appetite and are "finicky" about what they eat and so find their energy and vigor slipping away. Thousands of other men and women eat heartily, even to the point of "stuffing" yet they remain thin and can't seem to get any "pep."

Such conditions are due to faulty nutritive processes. Lack of stimulation to the mouth and stomach glands is the real cause. We all need better digestion of our food. Scientists are telling us about this as announced nearly every day in the newspapers and medical journals.

If your appetite is poor or if you eat a lot and you still remain thin and lacking in vitality, try this—a good stimulant three times a day with your meals. You will be satisfied with the improvement and results will come quickly.

A remarkable stimulant-tonic has been devised for just such conditions as these. It is delightfully palatable and is prepared by an old Virginia concern in business for nearly a century. Druggists and physicians have come to know this stimulant as "Old Monticello Tonic." Get a bottle today from your druggist, take a small wineglass full before your next meal—see how much better you eat—feel the glow of stimulated functions throughout the body. A few days' treatment will bring a quick change in rundown conditions and overcome lack of energy.

THE NEW SILKS FOR SPRING ARE ARRIVING

Winter, with its cheerless skies will soon be over—and shortly Nature will color the world—to give us bright thoughts through the Spring. This we look forward to with joy in our hearts and we yearn to give outward expression to the pleasure of it all.

One of the ways a woman has of expressing the Spring in her heart is by choosing a new frock.

Our silk section is replete with lovely lengths of silk from which to choose a frock. The colorings and weaves are more exquisite than ever before.

A continuous interest is strongly maintained for all prints large or small. Vivid or subdued. Crepes in dainty floral designs have been successfully introduced this season and as last year, everywhere you go you will see prints, prints, prints.

You will find the smartest fabrics in print—including crepe, radium, Pussy Willow and Georgette.

Printed Crepes—$2.00 to $3.75 the yard.
Printed Radium—$1.75 to $3.50 the yard.
Printed Georgette—$2.25 to $3.50 the yard.

A wonderful group of printed Pussy Willows, including floral, National Park and Bottom of the Ocean designs. Priced at $4.50 the yard. All distinctly new designs.

To combine with the above prints we have a splendid range of colors in plain washable crepe at $2.00 to $3.00 the yard; plain flat crepes — $3.50 the yard; plain Pussy Willow taffeta at $3.25 the yard.

If one wishes a compose' frock, which is the newest innovation, one will find a beautiful array of shades in greens, blues, rose, tans and brown. Washable crepe at $2.25 the yard, makes an inexpensive, yet chic-looking frock, in the new way of combining colors.

The tailleur will be a favorite in the Spring mode and has not been overlooked in our selection of suitable fabrics.

Mallinson's Charmova is a stylish fabric for the tailleur. Choose black, navy, blue, Mother Goose or Bois de Rose. $5.50 the yard. 39 inches wide.

For the dress coat we have a beautiful grade of Bengaline, corded silk, at $3.50 the yard. Black or Cocotan, the two most fashionable coat shades for Spring. Also white for children's coats.

A lighter weight silk for tailored suit or top coat is the crepe Faille in black, navy and new Spring shades. $4.00 the yard. 39 inches wide.

Crepe Chiffon at $1.65 the yard.

Taffeta in light and changeable shades for the Junior or small Miss, for party wear. $2.00 to $3.00 the yard.

REVIVAL MEETS COME TO CLOSE

Evangelist Edward C. Oney, of Ashland, Ky., closed a series of revival meetings last night in the Church of the Nazarene of which Rev. F. F. Freese is pastor.

He spoke at the morning, afternoon and evening services which drew large crowds despite the inclement weather. At the afternoon meeting he spoke of his work as a missionary in Japan, while at the services Saturday night he told the experience of his life.

Baptismal Services.

Don't Risk "Flu" by Neglecting a Cold

If you have a cough or cold, don't neglect it while "flu" germs are in the air. A cough or cold irritates the lining of throat, chest and bronchial tubes, often the lungs themselves, if neglected too long. And it is in these inflamed linings—when a cold has broken down your resistance—that the dreaded "flu" germs are quickest to find a breeding ground.

Don't just dread the "flu." Take measures to prevent it, by getting rid of a threatening cough or cold immediately—before "flu" develops.

By its powerful double action, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral quickly breaks up coughs and colds. With the very first swallow you feel its comforting, healing warmth. Quickly and unfailingly it goes straight to the seat of danger, penetrating through and through the irritated membranes. The soothing, healing powers of this hospital-tested medicine are absorbed by the linings of throat, chest and bronchial tubes just as ink is absorbed by a blotter. This is why Ayer's Cherry Pectoral so quickly stops the cough, breaks up the cold and brings, sure, lasting relief.

If "flu" has developed call your doctor. If it has not developed, but you have a threatening cough or cold, take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral at once! Keep your throat, bronchial tubes and lungs healthy and strong. At all druggists, 60c, twice as much, $1.00. fs24c

Death of Dr. George P. Ikirt

East Liverpool today mourns the death of Dr. George Pierce Ikirt, 74, school teacher, law student, physician and surgeon and statesman, who, as he often wished, succumbed "in the harness" Saturday at his home in West Sixth street.

Few men have had a more active career than Dr. Ikirt, who was the Democratic representative of the Eighteenth Ohio district in the United States congress for one term, and then declined renomination by his party.

Born near the West Beaver church in Columbiana county, he received his early education in the district and Lisbon schools. At 17 he was appointed a school teacher and at the same time he began the study of law under Jonathan H. Wallace, who later became congressman. Forced by ill health to abandon his plans to become a lawyer, he began the study of medicine, in which he graduated, and for 51 years he practiced his profession in the East Liverpool district.

In politics he was an ardent Democrat, but he never permitted party lines to influence his judgment on public issues. Possessed of the courage of his convictions, he opposed President Grover Cleveland, whom he twice helped to elect, on the silver question.

He was known as a "war horse" of his party, in which he was a recognized leader for many years. He numbered among his friends such men at the late Speaker Joseph G. Cannon, for many years known as the "czar" of the House of Representatives, and the late William Jennings Bryan, who always was a guest in the Ikirt home when he visited East Liverpool.

Besides his activity in his profession and his interest in politics, Dr. Ikirt was also a business man. And, too, he was known for his charities.

Dr. Ikirt's death is a great loss to East Liverpool, where he was revered.

Good Talk

There are few "good conversationalists" nowadays—for which Heaven be praised! Gifted talkers used to be always monopolizing the conversation when we wanted to talk. It takes long practice and much native ability to become a first-class talker, and then it may only get you disliked. But almost anyone, it appears, may become a pleasant and popular person in conversational gatherings, and that is really worth while.

"The first essential is to talk too little rather than too much. Second, avoid detail. A sketch may be crude, inaccurate and badly executed, but it is not boring. Cromwell's "wart-and-all" theory should never be applied in conversation, in which the quality of selection is of its very essence. Third, if you must tell a story—and please don't do so if you can help it—never imitate the mannerisms or intonations of the people you are describing.

"Fourth, look interested, and, if possible, be interested in what other people say. Do not let your eyes or your attention wander. A good listener is never a bore.

"We cannot all handle foils with skill, but we can all toss back the conversational ball when it is thrown at us, and it should be tossed back lightly—not hurled in the face of our opponent, who should be regarded as a partner in the social game rather than as an antagonist."

Too many people, afflicted with logical minds, seem to think that every conversation has to be an argument instead of a cooperative discussion, and that they are under moral obligations to prove something every time they open their mouths.

Alienated Affections

One of the unfortunate things about children going to college, or even to high school, is that sometimes it has a quite unforeseen effect, making a breach between them and their parents. The father and mother, after making big sacrifices for the boys' and girls' education, find the latter drawing away from them.

The children may not become really "ashamed of their parents." They will surely not feel that way if there is the right stuff in them. But they do come to feel, in many cases, a wide divergence of understanding and sympathy. Parents and children no longer have common interests. The children, in their growth, have grown away from their parents.

Sometimes this is the children's fault. In their rapid progress, they may become impatient of their plodding elders. That brings about much heart-burning, sometimes real tragedy. But there are two sides to it.

"The trouble with parents," says an indignant young college lad, "is their tendency to sniff at every suggestion or idea we spring on them. They don't keep pace with what is new, and don't try to understand what we're doing, and they brand what we learn as mere rubbish. So sometimes we simply have to pass them up in order to make any real progress."

A tolerant and understanding attitude toward the children, all the way from kindergarten to college graduation, is as important as the education itself. And whatever differerence there may be between parents and children in the matter of knowledge may be bridged by sympathetic interest in them and their work. Personal sympathy holds families together, in spite of varied interests.

The Little Scorpion's Club— By Fontaine Fox

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY
By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Diary of a modern Pepys: Early up and had high words with a waiter over my breakfast and so foolishly upset I could not eat and so to 72nd street and out upon Riverside Drive. Then down Broadway atop an omnibus, still pouting.

And stopped to look at mail sorters in a postoffice sub station—a work which somehow fascinates me. Going to the Colony I was joined by Ray Long and Frazier Hunt, and we matched coins to see who would pay the score and with ill luck I lost, and how those gluttons did eat.

Home and worked until Gil Patten, who used to write Frank Merriwell novels, came and we played indifferently at billiards, but talked of this and that especially being in accord a gentleman was always a gentleman even when foxed. So home to bed.

A chorine returned from a tour to meet the girl friend with whom she formerly lived. In her absence the friend had become haughtily up-townish, with a drawling broad A, and a lorgnette. After listening for a long time, the returning trooper inquired: "How long have you been yachting?"

There is a type of Broadway girl one rarely finds outside that district. She has a brittle cynicism and a wise cracking manner of turning pleasant talk into stinging verbal thrusts. In this way she glosses over the hollow mockery of hard living. Her voice is a trifle husky from gin and cigarettes, her hair hennaed and her lips and cheeks over bright. Her particular boy friend is an Eddie or Joe who is usually reached by telephone at a pool room. Most of them under the aloof surface are generous hearted. In fact they have reached their present state largely through generosity of one kind and another. Under stimulation the veneer of hardness cracks and they are likely to sob over a mother song or tear-jerking poem. They are the girls who so mysteriously vanish from Broadway without leaving a single trace. They differ from the gold digger and usually waste their love on worthless men. And disappear.

The fashion decree that wrist watches are taboo with evening dress is not clicking. While the thin platinum chain stretched across the weskit is considered swank, the wrist watch is in majority.

Nor is anyone taking very seriously the effete effort to revive the derby. Idea comes from London where the bowler has always been more or less popular. It strikes me the ultimate in masculine bravery is to wear a pearl-white derby.

A dig among the debutantes. One met another leaving a beauty parlor. "What is the matter. Wouldn't they wait on you?" Mee-o-ow!

A big hearted Rupert told two Lorelei's to make themselves entirely at home in his hotel apartment while he went to the theatre. Among the charges on his bill we: Hair dress parlor, $8; dinner, $14; manicure shop, $4; telephone calls to Hollywood and Chicago, $29; florist, $24; candy, $10; cigarettes, $3, and newstand, $17. A pleasant evening was had by all.

There are, I am told, some New York bell hops who are making $15,000 a year furnishing guests with liquor. It must be a dull business to carry pitchers of ice water on the side for a dime and try to act cheerful.

My Favorite Stories

THIS ONE HAS STOOD THE TEST OF TIME.

Unlike hen's eggs and society dramas, good jokes sometimes improve with age. Or at any rate they do not get old-fashioned with the rapidity that an egg does.

Here is one which at intervals I have been hearing for years. It seems to be to get better with each time of telling. I wonder if the reader will agree with me that its antiquity does not affect its excellence.

According to the most popular version, the thing is supposed to have happened in a remote court house of Missouri. A resident of the Ozark mountains whose reputation was none the best, had been on trial on the charge of horse stealing. The jury promptly returned a verdict of guilty without recommendation for mercy. Taking into consideration the past record of the offender, his Honor on the bench said:

"It is my intention to sentence you to at least eight years at hard labor in State's prison. Now then, before sentence is formally pronounced, I shall listen to anything you may have to say in your behalf."

He paused for a reply. After a moment of consideration the offender spoke:

"Well," he said, "I don't know ez I've got anything to say only this—it strikes me that you folks 'round this here cote house air purty toler'ble dam liberal with other people's time."

HASKIN'S LETTER
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Outlawing War.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 13.—Senator William E. Borah and his proposal to outlaw war are receiving some hard knocks from some of the ablest knockers in the United States, including former Attorney General George W. Wickersham, Dr. A. Lawrence Lowell, president of Harvard University, Everett Colby, and Irving Fisher, professor of economics at Yale University. One of the verbal bludgeons with which he is being assailed is the charge by Professor Fisher that the Idaho statesman has emulated the late Senator Philander C. Knox in dragging red herrings across the trail leading to American entrance into the League of Nations and the World Court.

Dragging red herrings across trails is regarded as an especially reprehensible practice, it seems, but Senator Borah's friends insist that it can not be done where there isn't a trail and that it has yet to be proved that there is a trail leading to American entrance into the League of Nations.

Professor Fisher has been engaged in a debate with Dr. John Haynes Holmes, pastor of the Community Church of New York, on the question, "Is the League of Nations effective and can it be made so?" and he has been supporting the afirmative. There is something about the way the question is stated that arouses hoots and other derisive demonstrations from the Borahites, who say that the latter half of it is the negation of the first. That is to say, to debate whether the League of Nations can be made effective is to assume that it is not effective.

However that may be, the question as stated was duly debated in Symphony Hall, New York, and the only things lacking in the information about the affair that has been permitted to filter out to the general public are definite statements as to who won and whether the victory was by a knockout or a decision on points.

Merely a Pious Aspiration.

The head of Harvard University, in a letter read by Professor Fisher, said in effect that the best he could hand the Borah outlawry of war idea was to characterize it as merely a pious aspiration.

"Borah's proposal for the outlawry of war," wrote Dr. Lowell, "reminds me of James Russell Lowell's 'We are all agin wrong in the abstract, for that kind of wrong no one ever committed.' It does not seem to me to be a thing to oppose, because it is nothing but a pious aspiration, which is meaningless. In fact, it is a confusion of ideas. Outlawry means placing outside of the protection of the law. You outlaw a man, when anybody may kill him with impunity; but you can not outlaw an act or a crime. You can not outlaw murder—you outlaw the murderer, and then anyone may kill him who pleases; but it sounds well, and some people think it means something. It merely means calling war bad names. The World Court and the League of Nations are real means toward an end; whereas the outlawry of war is praising an end without creating any means for carrying it out. That is the way it lies in my mind."

CHAPTER THIRTY-NINE.

At last he had finished his disquisition. The last paper was laid in its appointed place in a stout leather portfolio on the desk in front of him, and he leaned back with the air of a man who has finished a laborious but necessary task.

"All complete now," he said. "Report in full activities of organization now ready for fifteenth. Annual meeting this year convenient dividends for all. Managing director. Make very satisfactory report. Results most gratifying and well repay strenuous labors of past."

He crossed his legs and lighted a cigarette.

I went straight to the point which was beginning to take first place in my mind.

"Why have you told me all this?" I asked.

"Honorable custom of Japan," he replied, "to amuse honorable guest who condescends take interest in humble concerns of unworthy host."

"Do you imagine," I said, "that I shall ever become a party to your infamous trade? I shall denounce you at the first opportunity."

"I know very well that," he said quietly. "Yess. I quite appreciate upright character of honorable guest. He go straight to police, when he get away. I very sorry obliged to restrict honorable movements of upright American gentleman. But Japanese nation always polite. Regret inconvenience to intelligent and honest person and endeavor to find suitable pastime. He come to my private office, read many private papers. Japanese host enter at critical moment. So Japanese host stand whisky-soda and politely stimulate interest in good work, 'put his wise,' as is expressed in United States. Necessary now forever keep firm eye on honored guest in view of possible verbal indiscretion. Cannot afford to run risk of inconvenience arising out of remarks of clever, unsympathetic American banker.

"What do you propose to do?" I cried.

"Request you stay as before with other patients," he said.

I rose from my chair and he looked at me steadily.

"Do I anticipate onslaught of honorable and very powerful guest? He very headstrong man. Advise him look at antique cabinet beside him."

I turned my eyes in the direction which he indicated. A tall cabinet or press stood close to my left hand. Its two long doors were fantastically carved by some medieval craftsman of the fifteenth century. The scene represented "The Last Judgment." Heaven with Christ enthroned, surrounded by the elect, was depicted in the upper part, and in the lower part hell was represented by a huge grinning monster with wide-open jaws swallowing the damned. In the center was carved a great Michael holding the scales, his face severe and majestic. His right hand, which should in accordance with the conventions of medevial art, have held a sword was not visible, the place being taken by a large inverted keyhole, a long slot ending in a circular hole evidently designed to receive a large key. As I looked at the slot, I saw behind it the gleam of an eye, and at the same instant became aware of the glint of a pistol barrel. The muzzle touched the hole in the door of the press and pointed, when I sat facing the Center, straight at the small of my back. As I looked, a soft sentence in Japanese was hissed from the aperture. A sign from the little Japanese and I was a dead man.

"Mention was made," continued the Center, after I had sufficiently inspected the press, "of bringing compelled visit to end after fifteenth. Fear this now quite impossible. You learned too much, Mr. Quexter. I told too much. You will accordingly remain here to end of story."

He paused an instant before pronouncing the last word, which he spoke with a quiet malicious emphasis.

"I was pretty desperate by then, though not yet down and out.

"That's fine," I replied. "But what about my friends? What about the bank I serve. You don't imagine they will allow me to disappear without making inquiries, do you?"

"They not make inquiries much," he answered, taking several sheets of paper covered with typewriting from a drawer. "Not when they receive satisfactory explanations."

Upon this he handed me the following letter typed on headed paper:

Klinik Eidelweiss,
Heffelbach in der Nable von
Basel.
Dr. Joannes Kuntz.

Dear Merridick, (Merridick was the name of my chief at the Bank) I am sending this to tell you that it will be impossible, I fair, for me to return at the end of my leave. I have suddenly been struck down in an acute attack of appedicitis, was rushed here in an ambulance, and am to be operated upon tomorrow. Please do not be in the least concerned about me. I am in excellent hands and am receiving every attention though it will naturally be some weeks before I shall be about again.

I will let you know the result of the operation as soon as I can.

Very truly yours,
ROBERT W. QUEXTER.

I read this document in amazement. It was just such a letter as I would have written had the circumstances described in it actually taken place. My signature was entirely correct, so much so that I could have sworn it to be genuine had I not known that it was a forgery.

I glanced at the other papers. They were both letters to the bank from Doctor Kuntz, the first stating that the operation had been successful, but that the patient was very weak, the second, dated some days later, that I was slightly better, and was progressing as well as could be expected.

"Those settle immediate inquiries," remarked the Center. "Deal with future ones by other means."

I looked at him in silence. I could find no words. I recognized now that he had me beat.

French Net Champion Has No Rigid Rules To Keep in Shape

"Why shouldn't it? I'm playing against the finest players in the world all the time," she said.

There is no rigid training for the French tennis star.

"I drink, smoke, stay up late, enjoy life and I think that is the best way to train," she said. Sometimes, before a big match, I have trained and been so good, and then again I have been bored to death with myself.

"When one is bored, that is not good for training. It is much better to enjoy life in moderation.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

What's What in Washington

By Charles P. Stewart.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—With all due respect toward the army and navy, there is a growing feeling in congress that military training does not generally fit a man for direction of the destinies of a civilian population in peace time.

CARMI THOMPSON

This thought is back of Senator Willis' bill to take the Philippines and Porto Rico from the war department's administration, to retire the naval governments of the Virgin Islands, Samoa and Guam, and to place them all under control of a Washington "insular office" headed by a director, reporting directly to the president, not actually referred to in the bill as of cabinet rank, but really corresponding to England's colonial minister.

The plan is an outgrowth of suggestions by Carmi Thompson, who recently investigated the Philippines, as President Coolidge's personal representative, and found conditions pretty good, but not quite so good that he didn't believe they could be somewhat improved.

There had been a good many complaints concerning the Philippines. Gov.-Gen. Leonard Wood was beginning to need a clean bill of health not as to the honesty of his intentions but as to his competency.

The general impression in Washington was that Carmi Thompson was sent to the islands to find that the adverse criticisms were all nonsense, that Wood was an ideal governor-general, that the Filipinos weren't ripe for independence and that the archipelago was a perfectly safe place for American rubber growers to invest money, in full security that their investments would remain under the American flag.

Carmi did it, in substance, but he did it with a qualifying clause.

Everything was lovely, he said. The islands weren't fit for self government. There were no signs of sedition. Wood's rule was all that anybody could ask.

But wasn't it a pity that the governor-general could have only army men for advisers!—nice men, but so unfamiliar with the problems of civil life.

Carmi's hint was followed by preparation of the Willis bill. If there's a "regular" in Washington it's Willis of Ohio, chairman of the senate territories committee. When he introduces a bill, it means it has mighty solid support.

And Willis' bill not only takes in the Philippines; it takes in all America's overseas possessions, too. It aims to do a thorough job.

The kicking in Porto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Samoa and Guam has not been on as large a scale as the Filipinos.' Their populations are relatively small. Still, they have kicked.

Guam, for instance, has complained bitterly of the ukase imposed on it by one of tts naval governors prohibiting whistling. It fretted him, so he banned it, by law.

Willis, while recognizing the excellence of army and navy governors' intentions as far away islands' czars, holds that civilian government understands better what's what in ordinary every-day intercourse, and trade.

Tail Lights for Cops.

Some time ago a policeman was run down by an automobile at night. Experiments have resulted in the adoption of a small electric lamp to be carried on the crupper.

No matter what causes it: exposure, colds or irritation from dust and smoking—a cough is a signal that the throat tissues are inflamed and may quickly become breeding places for myriads of germs that lurk in the mucus. If this infection spreads, serious consequences will result.

It loosens up congestion promptly, and by stimulating expectoration, helps to rid you of sticky, germ-laden phlegm that clogs the air passages.

PERTUSSIN is a simple herbal remedy—pleasant to take, free from "dope", and has been prescribed by physicians for 20 years.

"POPULAR SIN" AT CERAMIC

Florence Vidor Heads All-star Cast in Paramount Film.

With a company which includes such players as Clive Brook, Greta Nissen, Phillip Strange, Andre Beranger and Iris Gray in her support, Florence Vidor's lastest Paramount picture, "The Popular Sin," arrived at the Ceramic theatre today. It is not often that a star is given good stories, casts and directors, all at the same time, but in her brief career as a star, Miss Vidor has been most fortunate. Her first vehicle was Ernest Vajda's "You Never Know Women" which was directed by William Wellman and in which Clive Brook, Lowell Sherman and El Brendel were featured. In her second effort, "The Popular Sin," Miss Vidor had the galaxy of talent mentioned above, the directoral genius of Malcolm St. Clair, and a story by Monta Bell.

"The Popular Sin" takes place against the colorful background provided by Parisian drawing rooms and theatres. Miss Vidor enacts Yvonne Montford, a charming young woman who is unlucky only because of one thing—her husband. He has a penchant for any female except his wife. Naturally, complications are apt to occur and, inevitably, they do. He becomes involved with a vivacious actress and she, with a handsome playwright.

Can you guess what happens? Don't guess—you'd only be wrong!

Police Alarm Boxes Will be Installed In French Capital

PARIS.—Parisians will soon know what a police-alarm box looks like. Fire-alarms are to be found on nearly every street-corner and are very often mistaken for a mail-box by the tourist who looks in vain for the little opening for letters, usually to be found in a lamp-post or beneath the window of the cigar-shop.

Up until now street protection has been dependent upon the good-looking policemen who always walk in pairs, but the officials have learned that they cannot be in all places at once.

France is going to celebrate officially the centenary of Beethoven which is another indication that the war is over.—Kenton News-Republican.

The Best Cough Syrup Is Home-made

Here's an easy way to save $2, and yet have best cough medicine you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this famous home-made cough syrup. But have you ever used it? Thousands of families feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will soon earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. It tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaiacol, which has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

SENATE INSURGENTS TURN GUNS ON BANKING ACT

58 SENATORS ASK CLOTURE, SPEEDING VOTE

Predict Passage on Wednesday of McFadden-Pepper Bill.

PLAN EXPLAINED

By William K. Hutchinson.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Somewhat paralleling the famous battle of Andrew Jackson against the United States bank, senate insurgents today waged war against further extension of the federal banking system by opposing enactment of the McFadden-Pepper banking act.

Jackson drove the U. S. bank out of existence, but the insurgent bloc faced almost certain defeat. A cloture petition, signed by 58 senators, lay on the desk of Vice-President Dawes to be submitted to the senate at 1 o'clock tomorrow for a vote on the question of shutting off further debate. As supporters of the bill command more than enough votes to adopt cloture, a final vote enacting the bill will be taken by the senate sometime Wednesday. It will then go to the president.

The action of the banking leaders in actually invoking cloture for the third time in the present generation created considerable bad feeling. Opponents of the bill charged the measure was being "railroaded" through congress, and that they were being "steam-rollered."

Provisions of Bill.

The provisions of the bill, which will have a far-reaching influence upon American banks, are:

1. Granting an indeterminate charter to the federal reserve system and all its banks, thus substituting an "for all time" charter or the existing one, which expires in 1934.

2. Permitting national banks to enlarge in the investment business, by which they can use savings deposits—under certain conditions—to purchase real estate.

3. Allowing national banks to establish branch banks within the limits of the city in which the parent bank is located, if the state laws permit branch banking by state banks.

4. Allowing a state bank, which has branch banks "up-state" or outside the city in which the parent bank is located, to bring all these branches into the federal system if the state bank becomes a national bank.

Insurgents' Charges.

The first two of these provisions aroused the greatest opposition from the insurgents. They asked why the federal reserve system was being given an indeterminate charter seven years before the present charter expires and charged such action would establish the reserve system as a "financial octopus" over American business. They also charged the "investment provision" would permit national banks to gamble in real estate speculation and the brokerage business.

Roy Green Throws Sugar Bowl Which Wrecks Coffee Urn

Roy Green, West Sixth street, was fined $10 and costs by Municipal Judge Hanley today after he entered a plea of guilty to a charge of malicious destruction of property, preferred by G. Georgeu, proprietor of a Washington street restaurant.

Green is alleged to have thrown a sugar bowl at the restaurant owner early Saturday morning. His aim was poor and the sugar bowl struck a coffee urn, causing damage, according to Georgeu, amounting to $66.50. Green, who arranged to pay the damages, was arrested by Patrolman William Lister.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

The Egyptians gladly accepted his rule.

Always accept any man's religious idea politely. The more ridiculous they are the more polite you should be.

EVERYTHING is comparative. If the income tax suit in Washington goes against the government, that will mean a saving of $9,000,000 to Henry Ford, who has nothing to do with the suit. And that won't make the slightest difference to Ford one way or the other. He wouldn't even have to sign the check, somebody would do that for him and it would only be like taking one apple off a barrel.

"Marvelous to be rich," the crowd will say. But the Japanese that Mr. Babst saw at work get one cent an hour, and to them a Ford employe is as rich as Ford is to the employe.

GERMANY has had enough war for the present, and isn't sending any expeditions to China. But, according to Hamburger Volks Zeitung, German manufacturers are shipping arms and ammunition to China by the shipload. The weapons are politely labeled "sport rifles," perhaps a fairly accurate description.

LON CHANEY AT AMERICAN

Battle Scene in Picture, "Tell It To Marines."

"Official" film scenes are the odd embellishment to "Tell It To The Marines," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's epic of the Marine Corps now at the American theatre.

The big battle scene, filmed on the plans near Chatsworth, and in which several hundred regular marines battle against Chinese bandits and hold a bridge, was a "two in one" affair. Primarily, for the picture, it was a great climax for the story. But primarily for the marines, it was practice maneuver.

Lon Chaney plays the leading character role as a veteran sergeant, and William Haines the romantic lead as a recruit. Others in the cast are Eleanor Boardman in the principal feminine role, Carmel Myers, Eddie Gribbon, Mitchell Lewis, Frank Currier, Maurice Kains and others of note.

Four Automobiles Reported Stolen Here Over Sunday

An epidemic of automobile stealing prevailed in East Liverpool over the week-end, four machines having been stolen. Up to the noon hour today but one of the missing cars had been recovered.

A Reo truck, belonging to Harry Carson, 1016 Florence street, was taken from a garage in Green lane last night. It carried license number T-93-960.

Thomas Palmer, motion picture machine operator at the Strand theatre, reported to Patrolman James Haley at 1:10 o'clock this morning that his Overland sedan was taken while parked in front of the Odd Fellows' Temple Sunday night. It carried Pennsylvania license number 351-836.

Sandy Bottom Home Raided; Man and Three Women Held

Frank Little, nightwatchman, residing in Sandy Bottom, East End, will face Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley at 1:30 Wednesday afternoon upon charges of running a disorderly house. Chief McDermott and Captain Conley raided Little's home Saturday afternoon and found three women of "questionable reputation," they say, loitering in the place. Little pleaded not guilty this morning and was released upon his own recognizance.

SIEBERT ESCAPES JAIL SENTENCE

Upon promise today of Harry R. Seibert, New Castle, Pa., to pay the costs and $25 immediately to his wife as well as $25 monthly toward the support of two minor children, Judge J. C. Hanley suspended a 30-day jail sentence. Seibert's wife, Blanche, charged him with non-support of the children.

Earl Donahew, Broadway, was fined $50 and committed to the county jail upon an intoxication charge. He was arrested Saturday evening in Broadway, by Patrolman Haley.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—All departments moved up to a higher range of prices in early trading today in response to aggressive speculative buying, sponsored mostly by the professionals in and out of Wall Street. Estimates of an unusually heavy outstanding short interest have stimulated confident bullish operations in many stock in which the floating is comparatively small. Dividend talk in Wabash and New Haven common stocks, which again eclipsed their best price records in more than a decade. In the case of New Haven, which sold up to 57¼, market rumors were to the effect that Pennsylvania Railroad was acquiring the stock with a view to leasing the road on a guaranty of 4 per cent. Dividends to common stockholders. Wabash was also mentioned for a 4 per cent. dividend annually.

Leaders in the forward move in industrial shares included U. S. Steel, which gaines about a point, Dupont, up 2½; General Motors up 3; Hudson Motors up 2; Woolworth up 1½; Smelters up 1½; Allied Chemical up 1; Westinghouse up 2; Baldwin Locomotive up 1½.

The financial and commodity markets were practically unchanged. Call money was in good supply at 4 per cent. The government's cotton consumption report showed a slight falling off in January. Grain was firm and foreign exchange steady.

Certain it is, however that unless there are wholesale concessions by both sides from the proposals originally presented, there is danger of a tie-up in the bituminous industry, which is admitted by both groups to be in none too healthy a condition.

CLARK FILES $10,666 SUIT

Attorney Seeks to Collect Fees for Legal Services.

Attorney G. Jay Clark of this city through his attorneys Hill & Davidson, also of this city, has filed suit in the common pleas court at Lisbon, against Rose A. Murphy, for an attorney fees amounting to the sum of $10,666.66 and for a loan amounting to the sum of $907.00, which Clark alleges he advanced his client who was ill and helpless and in need of money.

In March, 1925, Attorney Clark filed action in the district court, Cleveland, in behalf of Rose A. Murphy, then residing in Sebring, Ohio, demanding $100,000 damages from the Pennsylvania railroad company on account of personal injuries she had sustained, as she claimed because of the wrongful and negligent acts of the company, while riding as a passenger in one of their trains near Homewood Junction, Pa.

Soon after the case was filed in Cleveland, Rose Murphy removed to Greensburg, Pa., and requested her attorney to dismiss the case against the railroad company in the Cleveland court there so that she could have him file her case in the district court of western Pennsylvania. Recently, it is claimed that she settled with the railroad company for $35,000 and her attorney wants his share of the settlement for fees agreed upon plus the money he has loaned her.

Anti-Annexationists Ask New Trial in Fight Against City

Motion for a new trial in the proposed annexation of the Maplewood, Park boulevard, Lincoln Highway and other residential sections to the city of East Liverpool, was filed today in common pleas court, Lisbon, by Attorney Charles Boyd and Harry Brokaw, representing anti-annexationists.

In a ruling handed down by Judge Thomas D. Price, New Lexington, Friday afternoon, the decision of the county commissioners, approving annexation, was upheld and the injunction proceedings dismissed.

Attorney Boyd said today it had not been determined whether the case would be carried to the appellate court on error if a motion for a new trial were refused.

SHANGHAI, Feb. 14. — Although there were no untoward incidents the Chinese vernacular press declared that Chinese indignation as at a high pitch as the result of the landing here today of the Gloucester and Durham regiments of the British army.

These troops marched through the streets of Shanghai with fixed bayonets and the Chinese press declares this was "a totally unnecessary insult to the Chinese."

Fighting in Chekiang province is continuing. Casualties are mounting and General Sun Chuan Fang is busily engaged in recruiting in Shanghai, Kiangso and Chekiang.

Troops On Move.

PEKING, Feb. 14.—With hundreds of thousands of troops on the move a general spring offensive in the region of the Yangtse river is in prospect.

Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, war lord governor of Manchuria and the actual power behind the Peking government, convinced of the inability of Marshal Wu Pei-Fu to prosecute an active campaign against the Cantonese forces at Hankow, today began the movement of 50,000 of his Feng-Tien troops across the Yellow river to occupy Chenchow. This city is in Honan province, the stronghold of Wu Pei-Fu, and constitutes the invasion of Honan by Chang's troops which Wu last week warned Chang would be contested by Wu's troops. Chenchow is on the direct railway line between Hankow and Peking.

American military observers who have recently returned from the war zone predict that Chang Tso Lin's drive for Hankow will succeed, but if they make efforts to win successes further south they will have great difficulty owing to the low watery terrain.

Forest "Buck" Mercer of Calcutta, paid fines totaling $46.60, after a hearing before Municipal Judge Hanley Sunday morning on charges of intoxication and interfering with a patrolman. Another charge of assault, preferred by Arthur T. Hull, has been filed against Mercer.

Jacob Fetty, Dixonville, who was arrested with Mercer, drew a fine of $10 and costs upon an intoxication charge.

They were arrested near the Alderson coal yards, Beleek street, Saturday afternoon by Patrolman Roth after they are alleged to have created a disturbance in a Mulberry street pool room. When Roth and Special Patrolman Curran arrived in the motor patrol, Mercer and Fetty had disappeared but they were apprehended a few minutes later. While enroute down the River road to the jail, the two men are alleged to have attacked Roth. DR. W. B. CALDWELL AT THE AGE OF 83

Mother! It's Cruel to "Physic" Your Child

To Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, it seemed cruel that so many constipated infants and children had to be kept constantly "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all children's little ills, he did not believe that a sickening "purge" or "physic" was necessary.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which helps to establish natural bowel "regularity" even if the child is chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but, best of all, it never gripes, sickens or upsets the most delicate system. Besides, it is absolutely harmless, and so pleasant that even a cross, feverish, bilious, sick child gladly takes it.

Buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine or write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE and just see for yourself.

DR. W. A. KNAPP AND HIS PARTY CLOSE REVIVAL

MANY CONVERTS

Evangelist Goes to Springfield, Ohio, for Campaign.

'Mid strains of the appealing campaign song, "I Have the Joy Down in My Heart," the three-weeks' Methodist Protestant revival following two compelling sermons by Dr. W. A. Knapp, Westerville evangelist, and a narration of his life story by G. E. Vinaroff, of Chicago, soloist and musical director, during the day, was concluded last evening.

Despite the inclement weather prevailing crowds attended all services. Conversions and reconsecrations were had in all the meetings, while in the afternoon, at the conclusion of Mr. Vinaroff's address, a trio of young persons signified their intention of engaging later in religious work.

Particularly gratifying was the accomplishment of exceeding by 40 the stipulated Sunday school attendance quota of 404, the second showing 444 present. The preceding Sunday the wished for 403 lacked 23, but in the initial Sunday effort the suggested total of 303 was exceeded by 23.

"Be faithful, don't get discouraged, keep on and hold on" were Dr. Knapp's final injunctions to those accepting and renewing allegience to Jesus Christ before saying goodbye and pronouncing the benediction. "Read the Bible regularly, pray every day and try to lead some one else to the Nazarene," he continued. "And finally, if hard pressed by temptations or trouble consult your pastor, Rev. Mr. Dimit. He will go far in putting you in right paths again. If you will do all these things all the evils functioning can't keep you down."

Opportunity for membership with the church will be afforded the new converts on next Sunday morning.

"I have enjoyed being in East Liverpool and in this church during this series of meetings;" Dr. Knapp confided in his valedictory. "The results of our mutual efforts, I am sure, will go far in the ultimate development of God's kingdom. I have been and ate grateful for your personal aid and sympathy, the superb loyalty and work of officials, members and the choir, the organist, Miss Jessie Hall, and, of course, Mr. and Mrs. Vinaroff, who have served as they always do with me.

"Meetings like these cost somewhat, but you will find in renewed activity and developed enthusiasm plus increased attendance they will be worth the expenditure made.

"I wish also to express my personal appreciation of the publicity given the revival by your excellent paper, The Review-Tribune.

"I shall go away carrying a deep feeling of affection for the church and your revered pastor, Rev. Mr. Dimit. May you mutually prosper in the Lord and be the means of bringing many into a saving knowledge of the Saviour of mankind."

Urging the fact that rejection of Christ was the chief sin possible by man and more heinous in God's sight than even the commission of seeming major sins, Dr. Knapp spread keen conviction throughout his hearers in his final discourse on Sunday evening. "What God wants is for you to accept Him through His Son Christ and listen to the pleadings of the Holy Spirit which thereafter once you do and experience the new birth that comes with regeneration will keep and lead you in paths of perfect peace," he said.

In kindred vein Mr. Vinaroff spoke his appreciation of his East Liverpool engagement. "I have enjoyed the Christian fellowship in this church," he declared. "As always when we conclude our meetings Mrs. Vinaroff and I leave with regret."

The evangelistic party will separate for a period following the revival's end. Dr. Knapp will go directly to the United Brethren church in Springfield, Ohio. Then he is scheduled in turn to return to Dayton, Ohio, and Columbia City, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Vinaroff will proceed to Arcana, 25 miles northwest of Dayton, for their next service following which they will go in turn to Huntington, W. Va., and Robinson, Ill.

Accompanied on the organ by Miss Jessie Hall and on the piano by Mrs. Vinaroff the choir, directed by Mr. Vinaroff gave as its final revival anthem, "Awake." With Rowland Kaufman, Mr. Vinaroff sang "Weary and Worn in the Battle of Life." The invocation was by Rev. Mr. Dimit.

With rare humor and pathos Mr. Vinaroff disclosed his identity as a Macedonian. There, as a lad he was led to Christianity following his parents, who listened to foreign missionaries behind closed doors. Following his father to Birmingham, Ala., he had a varied experience and joined the American army to learn the English language. "There I learned to gamble with dice and cards. Though I prayed every night," he said, "the soldiers, knowing me to be a hypocrite threw shoes at me After leaving the army, he was genuinely converted in a skating rink meeting in the west and promised to become a singing evangelist.

"You can't keep cards in your home without training children to become potential gamblers," he vehemently affirmed. "Even at bridge if your offer a prize through the mails you are liable as a misdemeanor."

How he overcome the vicissitudes of going through a course at Moody Bible school which prefaced his present work was vividly told.

"I have been in the evangelistic work for 13 years," he said. "In this interval I have led 7,000 souls to Christ and composed some 40 or 50 songs. This concludes my 142nd meeting since starting out for the Lord."

"The saddest things I observe are churches with plenty of finances for everything but the development of souls for Christ's service. What good could be done to aid persons like myself 'who are working hard to get thorough Bible training institutions.

Preceding his talk he sang in the Macedonion tongue the hymn "Saved By Grace." He was accompanied by Mrs. Vinaroff.

"We have had a fine series of meeting," opined Rev. Mr. Dimit, the church pastor. "Tthe attendance has been good. We have had splendid cooperation. We have all been helped as Christians. God pity the church in which the revival spirit has died. I have never had such splendid aides as Dr. Knapp and Mr. and Mrs. Vinaroff."

"The Keeping Power of God" was the theme of Dr. Knapp's Sunday morning discourse which was distinctly a sermon to converts and those reclaimed during the service now concluded.

"The Second Coming of Christ' was Dr. Knapp's subject on Saturday evening. "Science can give us no information on this theme," he said "Our only information anent it comes from the Bible. It says He will come again."

The children's choir sang appealingly at this service, the invocation was by Rev. O. L. Benedum, pastor of the Nazarene church and the solo sung by Mr. Vinaroff was "Christ Will Hold Me Fast."

The Value of Human Life at all ages

"Broke"— but Worth $79,100

Dad earns $50 a week. He has just paid the rent, the grocery bill and the milk bill. He says he is "broke, but happy".... In reality, he and his family are worth a small fortune.... This American family represents $79,100 of the nation's wealth.

ALMOST any man will agree that his life is more valuable to himself than the things he owns. Now he can have the comfort of knowing how valuable his life is to others—from a dollars-and-cents standpoint.

Today it is known that the lives of our men, women and children are the nation's greatest asset. The economic value of these lives completely overshadows the value of all of our material wealth.

Recent computations made by statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company show the real economic value of the lives of our people from babyhood to old age. These figures are based on the average family—with an average income—and take into consideration the average length of life of each member of the family, together with the cost of bringing children into the world, feeding them, clothing them, educating them and bringing them up to a self-supporting basis.

Long lives and short lives—small incomes and big incomes—are reckoned in these calculations. At 40, a man earning $100 a week is rated as having an economic value of $45,670. At 30, the $50-a-week man represents a value of $31,000. He had a value of $9,333 the day he was born. *

—And then come the figures showing the total economic value of all the men, women and children of the United States—the astounding total of 1,500 billion dollars ($1,500,000,000,000).

* If you wish to find out how much each member of your family is worth, economically, send for a booklet recently prepared by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company—It tells how a person of any age may measure the economic value of his or her life. It will be mailed free.

Ordinary Insurance	$6,566,596,872.00
Industrial (premiums payable weekly)	$5,487,800,648.00
Group Insurance	$1,444,584,107.00
Total Insurance Outstanding	$13,498,981,627.00
Number of Policies in Force December 31, 1926.	37,239,579

Perhaps the easiest way to realize this stupendous figure is to compare it with the total value of the entire material wealth of our country.

The latest available government reports show that everything we own—land, buildings, railroads, mines, raw materials, manufactured products, crops, live stock—everything included—was 321 billions.... Our lives are worth nearly five times as much as our property.

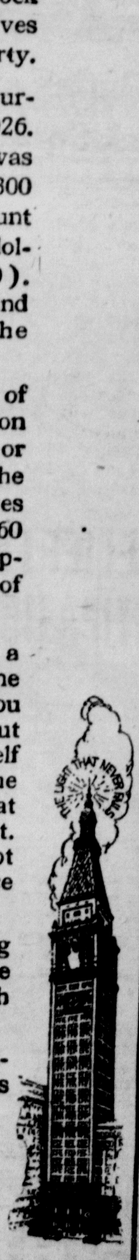

America can well be proud of the additional insurance placed on the valuable lives of her people in 1926. More than 16 billion dollars ($16,000,000,000) was written and revived during the year by about 300 life insurance companies—making the total amount of life insurance in force approximately 80 billion dollars ($80,000,000,000). About one sixth of the grand total is carried by the Metropolitan.

But while the people of this country carry 80 billion dollars of life insurance—or only one-twentieth of the economic value of their lives—they carry more than 160 billions of insurance on property—more than one-half of its value.

You would not insure a $5,000 house for $250—one twentieth of its value. You insure it adequately. But have you insured yourself adequately? Send for the booklet which tells you what you are worth. Study it. Then decide whether or not you carry enough insurance to protect your family.

America is rapidly gaining a better knowledge of the value of its greatest wealth—human lives.

HALEY FISKE, President FREDERICK H. ECKER, Vice-President

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company is a mutual organization. It has no stock and no stockholders. Its wealth is owned solely by its 24,500,000 Policyholders—in the United States and Canada.

PREMIUM LIST TO BE REVISED

Decision Reached at Meeting of County Fair Board.

The premium list for the county fair at Lisbon next September is to be revised, it was determined at a meeting of the fair board Saturday afternoon at Lisbon, the detail to be worked out by Secretary H. E. Marsden.

Representatives of the County Farm Bureau, Jersey Cattle club, the Holstein Breeders' association, the Columbiana-Mahoning County Breeders' association and the Columbiana County Co-operative Wool Growers' association met with the board for the purpose of discussing the revision of the premium list.

Under the program as outlined, it is the purpose of the fair board to make the premium list so attractive that a larger entry list of live stock will be recorded next fall. The cooperation of the different interests represented at the joint meeting Saturday has been guaranteed upon the revision of the premium list, and this has been agreed to by the fair board.

Live stock entries at the county fair last September were below normal, and with the premium list made more attractive to breeders and live stock owners, it is proposed to have double the live stock entries next fall.

County Service Club Plan Entertainment For Health League

President Hover Deemer of the Lisbon Kiwanis club this week will make final arrangements for the entertainment at Lisbon Feb. 24 of committees from all Kiwanis, Lions and Rotary clubs in the county when there will be a discussion concerning the aid these different unit organizations can extend toward the erection of permanent buildings for the Public Health League camp.

Sale of Christmas seals has alawys brought sufficient return for the overhead expense of the camp for the season, but there has always been more or less inconvenience experienced in the matter of permanent buildings.

Now that the county commissioners have agreed to allow the use of a seven-acre tract of land adjoining the county home property for summer camp purposes, the health league is now seeking assistance from organizations to erect permanent buildings.

A year ago the Lisbon Kiwanis club spent an afternoon at the camp and erected a building, the only cost involved being for lumber and nails. Contractor John Morrow donated his services as master erector. Such assistance is now desired from members of other clubs, it being said that with many assisting, one building can be erected during an afternoon.

Girls! Tell This To Your Skinny Friend

Tell him that the quick easy way to put pounds of solid flesh on his bones is to take McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets.

Tell him it's the modern way to take nasty tasting, stomach upsetting cod liver oil—that these tablets are rich in vitimines and besides helping him to fill out his flat chest and sunken cheeks and neck that the vitalizing vitimines in McCoy's will make him strong and vigorous and give him more ambition.

Tell him that he can get 60 tablets for 60 cents at any druggist anywhere and that if he isn't delighted after a 30 day test he can have his money back.

Help Is Needed to Restore Your Wasted Strength and Energy.

"Flu" leaves the body weakened and rundown. In such cases, a tonic is clearly indicated. Restore the appetite and rid yourself of that let-down feeling.

"Flu" is a very enervating disease. It leaves its victims so weak and debilitated that there is as much danger from the after-effects as from the disease itself. In other words, after an attack of the "flu," you need a selective tonic to rebuild the system so that you may have your old-time strength and energy restored.

You owe it to yourself and family to give S. S. S. a trial. It helps Nature build up red blood corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the body is nourished. It is time-tried and reliable. S. Tells Why He Can Now Eat Hearty

"A letter which I read in the paper about Carter's Little Liver Pills fitted my own case so closely that I could not help trying them and am very happy I did." So writes Mr. Frank J Trumbull of Jersey City, N J., whose letter goes on to say: "I had heard about Carter's Little Liver Pills for years but never knew they helped overcome poor appetite and sour stomach until I read about another man in the same plight who took Carter's with good results. I tried them and can honestly say that they freed me of nasty gas on stomach, so that I can now eat without getting bilious, and they improved my appetite fully 100%. You can rest assured that from now on I will boost Carter's Little Liver Pills whenever I can."

STRENGTH SAPPED BY OVERWORK REBUILT BY TANLAC

Ben Romano broke under long hours and heavy work. On verge of breakdown, tried Tanlac and regained lost vitality. Praises Tanlac highly.

Ben Romano lives at 799 Bowery St., Akron, Ohio. A native of Birmingham, Ala., he has a host of friends in that city. While working for the Sloss-Sheffield Iron Company there, he spared no effort to succeed, putting all his strength and energy into his work. "Lugging pig iron ten hours a day takes strength and vitality," said Mr. Romano, "and in the end it got me. For three months I was played out, nervous—on the verge of a breakdown.

"My stomach and liver went back on me, and heartburn, gas and sourness, kept me in constant misery. I could neither eat, sleep nor digest normally, so grew steadily weaker. Shortly before coming to Akron I started on Tanlac and have been in the pink of condition ever since. My friends would congratulate me on my improvement and I would always say that Tanlac and nothing else is responsible for the change. It certainly

If you feel below par, try Tanlac, nature's own tonic and body builder. Made from barks, roots and herbs. Your druggist has Tanlac. Over 52 million bottles sold.

"JURY STILL OUT" AS MALONEY-DELANEY PRIME FOR FRIDAY BOUT

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14—It looked liked a "hung" jury today on that absorbing Delaney-Maloney case, five days before the battle of the great indoors was to be carried to a show-down. In fact, the situation simply defied the boys to reach a conclusion, since the "holes" in the records of both principals made it possible to argue for or against yourself with an equal chance of collecting from one pocket and paying off in the other.

Jack Delaney is the type of fighter who will start them rioting at the turnstiles. Much of his reputation is built around his fights with Paul Berlenbach. Yet the common impression is that, for more than a year, Berlenbach hasn't been the man he used to be; as a matter of fact, some suspect that he never was.

Before I become identified as a fishmonger among a lot of tenor singers, permit me to say that I regard Jack Delaney as a great light heavyweight. But as a heavyweight contender, he hasn't proved anything yet I suppose I am damning the man with faint praise but if it be treason, make the most of it. To me, Delaney is an untried heavyweight and will so remain until Friday.

Ability Yet Unproven.

His knockout of Bud Gorman was sensational in its effect; yet it was without particular significance, since Gorman has a chin that is as fragile as a wine glass. The Gorman fight has been Delaney's only major heavyweight engagement to date.

Therefore, throwing out all the glamor of and clamor about the man, it stands to reason that the burden of proof is yet to be furnished. You couldn't, for example, prove his ability as a heavyweight by his victories over Tiger Flowers and Mike McTigue. These were impressive only for light heavyweight purposes.

Delaney's knockouts by Augie Ratner and Young Fisher may be charitably disregarded as coming before he fully developed. His bad showing with Pal Reed and Bryan Downey also can be thrown out on that ground, to say nothing of the fact that Delaney wasn't really a well man at any time before the late months of 1926.

Now for Maloney. This rather obese young man has come along from nowhere to fame in three months. He fought around Boston for some years with reasonable success but thought so little of himself that he retired from circulation for a time. This was due partly to managerial troubles and partly to the fact that he seemed to be going nowhere with great rapidity. Once he was knocked out by one Leo Gates; on another occasion he lost to Sharkey on a foul and not so long ago he won from King Solomon on what might be called a foul tip.

Maloney's Weight Will Count.

That's the picture of Maloney as he was. This is the young man as he is: He stopped Arthur De Kuh, a natufal ranvasback; he outstepped Franz Deiner, a willing German; he won easily from Harry Persson, an unwilling Swede. That is the build up on Maloney in its entirety.

If Delaney were bigger and stronger, one might be justified in giving him the cakes right now and calling it a contest. He has proved himself a master marksman, a great one-punch hitter and a fast, clever, brainy boxer-heh as proved everything, in fact, except the essential question of whether he really is a heavyweight in the first place. The party is fatheaded who says that 25-pound pull Maloney has in the weights will make little difference.

However, Delaney is a "money" fighter who is good when he has to be. Also, he has added strength and health without sacrificing speed. He is a "killer" with a right cross to the jaw, but, on the other hand, the punch is virtually no good unless it lands. Maloney has a trick of carrying his left shoulder ultra-high and Delaney may be forced to do business with the body, which may not be to his advantage because of the disparity in the weights.

Some of the boys have picked their winner already but that game can be beaten off beyond all contest. I may pick mine Saturday morning.

Pays Tribute to Ability of 'Dim' Zange as Referee

Johnny Freund, Pittsburgh basketball expert, sticks to Dim Zange, president of the Columbiana County Amateur Basketball league, as one of the greatest cage referees of all time.

Following a recent conversation with Bill Powell in Pittsburgh, Freund comments to the effect that the promoters of the county circuit knew their stuff when they engaged Zange as the league Landis, for, as he says, "Dim always was one of the keenest students of the game."

Although recognizing the fact that there are a number of mighty fine referees around this part of the country, Freund asserts that "Zange could give the average authority of today cards and spades and beat him to it."

Freund also has some nice things to say of Powell, who is coaching the Elks' team here. "Bill," he observes, "was the game's greatest center."

East Liverpool and East Palestine high school passers split even in the matter of victories in a double bill at the high school court Saturday night, but the lion's share of the honors went to the Blue and White in the main clash of the event, a decisive 36 to 16 win over the visiting boys' squad wiping out the stigma of the defeat sustained on the enemy court early in the season.

The local girls were losers in the preliminary, 37 to 20.

But though the East Palestine boys played good basketball all the way they were up against a combination of passers entirely too fast for them. The playing of Captain Jim Hamilton and the rest of the Blue and White gang was far superior to that of the visitors, both offensively and defensively.

With the exception of the first period East Palestine never had a look-in. The local defense worked to perfection, the Brown and White finding the rims for only five field goals and two of the double deckers were made on mid-floor tosses, while the locals went up beneath the basket for the majority of their scoring.

East Palestine started off like winners, Harvey throwing in a basket from mid-floor and scoring a foul. English was first to register for the locals, counting on a pretty side shot. He then put High in the lead with another double decker. He was fouled in the attempt and added another point on a gift throw. Hamilton and English dropped in two more and the count was 9 to 3. Points by Orndorff and Dolan made the count 9 to 7 in favor of E. L. H. S. at the end of the period.

The second period was all in favor of the Blue and White. East Palestine scored only one foul, while Hamilton, Larkins and McKeever penetrated the visiting defense for four double deckers, the tally standing 17 to 8 at the half way mark.

Lorah's passers continued to set the pace down the third quarter, the score shooting up to 24-12 for the period. Then the local mentor sent in his second stringers, Bloor, Wildblood, Todd and Ankrim, seeing action in the last act. They outclassed the Palestine passers almost as cleverly as their predecessors. Before the game ended, the regulars were back and the varsity flingers pushed the count up from 26 to 36 while the opposition was adding four points.

The entire local squad played a classy game. English was the scoring star, while the playing of Larkins and McConville was worthy of special mention.

Haskin's Letter

Mr. Wickersham, who was the man chosen to be Attorney General by the man who was once President of the United States and is now the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, heaved his brickbat at Senator Borah's devoted head when he wrote:

"I am and always have been opposed to Borah's Outlawry of War plan, as far as I can understand it. I think it is making peace by resolution, which I think wholly impracticable."

Professor Fisher said that with the deaths of President Woodrow Wilson and Senator Henry Cabot Lodge the old enmities which blinded men's eyes in regard to the League of Nations, and, to some extent, the World Court, have largely disappeared. And while interest in the subject has also somewhat abated the country seems ready now to consider this subject anew in the light of experience, with the actual working of the League and the Court.

The only obstacles so far as general public opinion is concerned, according to the Yale professor, are indifference and confusion. The confusion has been brought about, he thinks, and he concedes that it has been rather cleverly done, through the offer of substitutes for the League and the Court. Many people have been and are still being deluded in this way, he says, and while perfectly sincere themselves they have been made use of by insincere politicians, who have resorted to the well known political trick of offering substitutes as red herrings across the trail.

Now For The Fish.

"There have been three red herrings," says Professor Fisher. "The first was the 'Association of Nations' proposal, by which an effort was made to kill 'the' League of Nations by offering 'a' League. The second was the attempt to revivify the so-called old Hague Tribunal as a substitute for the International Court of Justice—thus trying to kill 'the' Court by offering 'a' court in its place. And, third, there is the effort to concentrate the attention of peace-lovers on the proposal to 'outlaw war.' The aphorism, beware of Greeks offering gifts, might well be heeded by proponents of the Court and the League."

Where, he asks, is the "Association of Nations" to-day? Why, if it were a sincere movement, has it not been pressed by those who proposed it? Where is the proposal to revivify the so-called Hague Tribunal? That, also, is all but forgotten. It is obvious today that there can be no Association of Nations but the one which now exists, nor any World Court other than the court which now exists. The old Hague Tribunal was not a court, but a panel or list of names of possible arbitrators. But the third red herring, says Professor Fisher, is still in evidence.

It was first drawn across the political trail by Senator Knox to help defeat the League of Nations, he contends, and it is now being drawn across the trail by Senator Borah for the same purpose. He says that Senator Borah has introduced his outlawry-of-war resolution three times, but nothing has been done about it, not a particle of progress has been made toward passing it through the Senate, and it is as dead as a herring that has been dragged across innumerable trails.

"Of course," says Professor Fisher, "no one can oppose the outlawry of war. That is the object of every sane peace movement, but the only outlawry that is feasible is the outlawry through the League and the Court."

After that the learned doctor embarks upon a discussion of the relative merits of "an" and a "a," which makes it rather difficult for the lay mind, and leads to the thought that war will be outlawed or called off when the poor dumb brutes who are relied upon to fight wars decide that they are not mad enough to fight and quit on the job. A strike against war may be the next world-wide demonstration.

The government of British South Africa is seeking a method to stop the evasion of the license law by more than half the radio users there.

PRISON CAMP IS SHORT OF LABOR

Uncle Sam is facing a labor shortage on the construction of the new women's prison at Alderson, it was revealed last evening by Warden S. P. Smith, of the state prison at Moundsville, in whose custody the federal prisoners in the labor camp down state are placed when they cross the borders of the Mountain State.

Work on constructing the new prison has been moving ahead, regardless of the weather conditions, and there has been little trouble experienced during the past two years on keeping up the man power. But there are now only 65 men in the big camp. Normally the enrollment is 200.

The warden explained that the government had been extending paroles to many of the men at Alderson and the expirations of sentences have been so extensive that the low mark was reached before the prison officials realized what was transpiring.

Virtually all of the men come from the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga. Few if any sent to the labor camp have long to serve when they arrive, and most of them have been sent from points north and by transporting them to Aldersen the government has them closer to their homes than if they were held at Atlanta.

Many Attend Services.

Large number attended services last night in the First United Presbyterian church. The sermon was delivered by Rev. H. A. Kelsey, former pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, East Liverpool, now member of the faculty of Muskingum college, O.

Piles Go Quick

Thousands who have piles don't know that quick and permanent relief can be accomplished with internal medicine. Cutting or any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will not remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is stagnation of blood circulation in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Dr. J. S. Leonhardt found the remedy and called his prescription HEM-ROID. Dr. Leonhardt tried it in many, many cases with a marvelous record of success, such a wonderful record that HEM-ROID is now sold by druggists everywhere under a rigid money-back guarantee.

Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of HEM-ROID from Mathews Original Cut Rate store today. It has given quick and lasting relief to thousands and should do the same for you.

WEIRTON YOUTH HELD FOR COURT

Andro Davaski, of Weirton, was bound over to await the action of the next grand jury when arraigned Friday evening before Justice Morgan Jones. His bond was fixed at $3,000, in default of which he was committed to jail at New Cumberland.

He was arrested at the instigation of his father, who is alleged to have given the police evidence that the youth was responsible for the fire that occurred in the sorting department of the Weirton steel plant three weeks ago.

Church Reception Planned.

Reception for new members will be held Wednesday night in the First Christian church. Program will be given after which refreshments will be served.

Cheery Advice to Nervous Women!

"Thru over-work and worry I suffered a severe nervous breakdown in health," said Mrs. Raymond Rhoades of 20 Camp St., Ashtabula, Ohio. (Picture above.) My nerves seemed to go all to pieces, I would break out all over with a nervous rash, my back ached, I grew so weak and nervous that I was scarcely able to do anything—at the least exertion I would be completely fagged out. But after taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription I got along all right, my nerves quieted down, I never had any more rash and I grew strong, I was greatly improved in health in every way by taking the 'Favorite Prescription.'"

Obtain Dr. Pierce's Prescription now, in liquid or tablets, from your druggist or send 10c for trial pkg. of tablets to Dr. Pierce's in Buffalo, N. Y.
